Declaration of Authority

On October 14th 1966, His Holiness Pope Paul VI confirmed the decree of the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, under 56/16 (A.A.S.), permitting the publication of writings concerning supernatural apparitions, even if they do not have a 'Nihil Obstat' from ecclesiastical authorities.

Since the abolition of Canon 1399 and 2318 of the former Canonical Code, publications about new appearances, revelations, prophecies, miracles, etc., have been allowed to be distributed and read by the faithful without the express permission of the Church, providing they contain nothing which contravenes faith and morals. This means that no imprimatur is necessary when distributing information on new apparitions not yet judged by the Church. The compiler of these messages wishes to manifest unconditional submission to the final and official judgement of the Magisterium of the Church regarding any of the content contained within these messages. Notwithstanding the previous statement, all messages contained within have, however, received discernment from the Spiritual Director of the shrine and the visionary.

In Lumen Gentium, Vatican II, Chapter 12, the Council Fathers urged the faithful to be open and attentive to the ways in which the Holy Spirit continues to guide the Church, including private revelations. We hear: "Such gifts of grace, whether they are of special enlightenment or whether they are spread more simply and generally, must be accepted with gratefulness and consolation, as they are specially suited to and useful for, the needs of the Church...Judgements as to their genuineness and their correct use lies with those who lead the Church and those whose special task is not to extinguish the Spirit but to examine everything and keep that which is good."

Public revelation ended with the death of the last apostle. Private revelation, however, has continued from that day until the present. Let us give heed to that which was written in The First Epistle of Saint Paul to the Thessalonians; Chapter 5, Verses 19 & 20: Extinguish not the spirit. Despise not prophecies.

conception as I lead you always to The Sacred Heart of The Christ and thence to Our Father. Listen to that which I am allowed to tell you and heal the wounds of the Christ through your love and compassion and actions. I am here to guide you and to help prepare you for the trials which are to come. Please take action so more return to the embrace of The Eternal Father While there is yet time.

31st March 2006

Strip away your pride and your self love and replace them with selfless actions and compassion and mercy and love. Almighty God will lift up the humble and righteous servants and shall place them in the place of honour. Come to Him as willing servants and help in the redemptive work of your brothers and sisters. You are not alone in your work for many others toil for the same purpose and those who do the will of God do so with His love within them. My adored Son, Jesus, lives within those who accept Him and reject their sinful ways and with The Christ within you are never alone. In all of your trials and concerns it is Almighty God who watches over you and He will never give you more than you can bear and He delights in those who ask for more tests than they are given. Spend your quiet reflective time which you share with Our Father wisely and listen to His words for you. Seek to ask only how you may serve Him and your brothers and sisters. The Lord our God is God and none are above Him. He is your rock and your refuge. He is the beginning and the end and He is your Father who waits patiently for your return. Try to view endings as only an end to one part of the journey and the beginning of a new part. Remain faithful and obedient and loving. Seek forgiveness through Jesus for all of you wilful wrongdoings. He has told you to ask for forgiveness and it will be given. Seek His Mercy, and you will find it in abundance. Trust in His Divine Mercy and seek to create peace through all which you do for without peace and the security of peace all good things are lessened. In everything you do you must show respect and compassion for all. Meet all at the level of spiritual growth that they have achieved and pray, pray, pray for understanding, courage and strength. Seek to reinforce the spirit given knowledge and wisdom with The Holy Scripture for all truth and meaning is contained within that one book. It is The Bible and encyclopaedia it is the book of life and of relationship. It is the only self improvement book and life lesson book which is really needed. One truth always remains and that is the love and compassion of The Father for all of His children so feel loved for you are truly loved, always. Read 2 Samuel 22 2-7 and keep the truth in your heart always.

April 1st 2006

Although you do not see me I am with you. I walk beside you and guide you. The great blessings rest on those who through faith alone know that I and My Adored Son, Jesus, are with them. Trust in God's love and realise that His love will never allow you to be abandoned or alone unless that is your choice. Speak with Him and let Him know that you love Him and desire to perform His will. Be obedient to His word and His commandments and you will grow in understanding and compassion. In humility seek to assist your brothers and sisters. The blessing of Almighty God our Eternal Father come upon you this night as you spend quiet and personal time with The Christ. Listen to that which He has to say to each of you and respond to His call.

8th July, 2005

Thank you for allowing me to be with you this night. I ask you to live your life joyfully and courageously and do not live in fear for fear does not come from the Eternal Father. Do not let the actions of godless men distract you from the light and the love and the truth of my Adored Son. Those who say they act on behalf of God do not act on behalf of the God of love and light. They serve the darkness which is the seducer and the enemy. They are self serving and as such they cannot serve God. All who are concerned with just material matters do not have time in their lives for God or the ability to find Him. Remove materialism from your life and spend quiet time speaking with my Adored Son in front of the Tabernacle where He waits for you. Give praise and glory to God Almighty for all you have, for all you are given, for all the blessings you are shown and for all the graces which He showers upon you. I tell you your prayers tonight are joined by the prayers of the Hosts of Heaven. Be courageous, humble examples of the Christ. Maintain faith and bring others to salvation at this time of great trials

8th August 2005

Thank you for inviting me to be with you this night. Know that the humble prayers which you offer to The Eternal Father are received with much gratitude by Him. Prayer is so important at this time for it is your way of showing the Father your trust and it shows gratitude for the love which He shows to you. Prayer is pure love. It is the response which you give to The Eternal Father for the love which He, as my Adored Son, Jesus The Christ, showed for you on Calvary. While he was still walking with you He gave the great commandment to love one another. When he did this He gave this it was not just a commandment. He made a covenant with you and made a promise to you that if you fulfilled the love of The Father then that love would return to you through great graces and mercy would abound from the endless fount of mercy that is Our Father in Heaven. Allow your day to be dedicated to The Father by making each day a prayer to Him. Let the actions of the day be a symbol of your love for Him. You show your love when you read the Sacred Scriptures and receive the Sacraments and when you pray and show obedience to His commandments. To night His love flows upon you and He gives His blessing to all of you. He wishes to give His blessings to all of His children but so many ignore His presence. Learn of His great love and learn his great commandment. Learn how to be humble in the presence of God for my Adored Son was humble for you. Read and understand the Scriptures. Read the gospel of St John Chapter 15 verses 9 to 17 and know God hides nothing from you and knowledge of Him frees you as revealed in the second letter to the Corinthians Chapter 3 verses 17 to 19. Keep peace and love with you always for in love and peace you will have The Christ within you and you will be an example of His merciful love to all whom you meet.

14th August 2005

Simply pray for that is all I ask of you. Know that Our Eternal father gains great pleasure in receiving the love you show for Him through your prayers. You must guide those who do not know how to pray by leading them to the understanding and wisdom of The Gospels. When you are asked what prayer do we pray? Answer that the prayer you were given is a good start always. Look to the Gospel of Matthew and in Chapter 6 verses 9 to 14 and you will know of the great truth and love given by God and through my adored Son, Jesus, is contained in those few simple words. It is the great legacy which He gave to you for all times.

15th August 2005

I thank you all for the prayers you have offered to The Father today and for the intercessions you have requested from me. The need for prayers for redemption and salvation are urgent. There is an urgency which you can not comprehend for so many souls are walking the wrong path. Through the truth and the love and the light of my Adored Son they can be brought back to the right path. That path leads them to the everlasting glory of The Eternal Father. Today you joined your prayers with mine when you prayed with me and through me. You prayed in front of images and statues of me and you called me the woman clothed with the sun. You show me in fine silks and linens which radiate with shades of gold and red and blue and purple. In my life I had no such garments and I did not need more than the simple rags I wore. My great possession was my desire to serve God Our Father Almighty as He had asked of me. The finest garments I have are the glory and radiance given by to me, by The Father, for my obedience. Be obedient to His commandments for He wishes to clothe you in the same way, with His Glory. Read Sacred Scripture and receive The Sacraments often and spend time at the Tabernacle where The Christ truly awaits you. Come to Him there for this is pleasing to The Father as you are again returning the love He showed for all of you. Accept His great Mercy with humility and contrition in your heart and know that all who sincerely repent and offer their penance will be clothed in glory and radiance as brilliant as the sun when they at last rest in the light of the presence of God. Help many of your brothers and sisters to join you by praying for their conversion and salvation. Humbly accept the request of The Almighty God and come into His glory where The host of heaven await the reward of the faithful.

22 August 2005

I ask you again to come into a closer relationship with almighty God. Abandon your wilful, selfish ways and reject all sin. Sin causes all of your suffering so willingly let go of the evil in your life and embrace prayer in order to lessen the suffering which weighs upon your brothers and sisters. God, Our Father, can not allow you to completely destroy His creation and He will act because of the offences you commit. There will be disturbances of great proportion in all areas of the world and they will continue until you can mitigate them by your solid, prayerful actions. The father can lessen these chastisements only when you lessen the weight of sin and abomination you are committing. Pray, pray, pray for a myriad of prayers are needed to prevent the full force of what is to come. Know about salvation for many. Perform penance for your sins and deny the wanton and corruptible worldliness which pervades everywhere and choose to spend more quiet time to be with our Lord. You will find you have more time to pray, read and receive the Sacraments and also be about The Fathers work. Be faithful servants for Almighty God and by your selfless actions you will be seen as an example of Jesus' love and mercy. Pray for understanding, patience and perseverance and ask to receive the strength needed to do God's Holy Will. Trust always in Jesus and The Father and The Holy Spirit as they work through you and keep peace about you. Soon the separation will occur but know that as one part of your life ends another begins. I will never leave you as I have said but know that more and more I shall be less evident physically to you but the messages I have been allowed to give remain alive and current for all time. Read them and learn from them and grow in understanding and love.

30th March 2006 morning

Come close to the most Sacred Heart of my Adored Son, Jesus, and know the love and protection offered within. His precious blood washed away sin forever and even now it still washes clean the sins which my dear children commit. Be cleansed by His blood and receive His truth into your hearts. Let love and peace prevail when His truth and light are established and The Holy Spirit infuses you with His Wisdom and discernment. Trust that Almighty God's plan is unfolding and know that all will happen for the greater glory of God. Spend your time quietly these days in contemplation and prayer. Remove yourself from distraction and do not be disturbed by anything which takes your focus from our Eternal Father.

30th March 2006

When you have the truth and the light of my Adored Son, Jesus, within you then you must live your life as an example of His life. Your actions will determine how many of your brothers and sisters can be brought to salvation in this time of preparation. Do not be concerned with those who obstruct and cloud the way ahead for the truth is a light which will pierce any cloud or darkness which tries to encroach upon you. Through your love of our Eternal father and The Christ you will become a light to the world and you must allow that light to burn brightly. The darkness of sin cannot be swept away if you do not fulfil your role in the salvation of souls by courageously being a witness to the Mercy and forgiveness which is available to all. Pray for discernment and for knowledge to come upon you through the Holy Spirit and through the reading of Holy Scripture. Almighty God's living words are contained in the Scripture and The Gospels so keep the word alive by repeating it and sharing it. Come to Jesus in humility and with the true desire for forgiveness and listen to that which He asks of you. Live the living words of God each day and give thanks and praise in every day. Much prayer is needed to overcome the forces which try to seduce all away from the focus of God so pray with love and sincerity in your heart and remove the distractions which bind you to worldliness and you will remove the barrier between you and our loving Father. Let the faith and hope from that faith go with you in all your dealings and know that you are protected by the mantle of my Immaculate humble and obedient and show love to all as it is shown to you by our loving Father in Heaven.

28th March 2006

Keep peace about you during your day by dedicating each day as a prayer to The Eternal Father. Allow the love He showers upon you to live through your humble and selfless actions. Let the light, which is within you through the power of The Holy Spirit; illuminate the darkness which surrounds so many. Sin is real as is the form of satan yet so many do not believe that either exists. Satan's great triumph is to make you believe that he is not real and as a result God becomes unimportant. When you stop denying Almighty God then you begin to cast off the shackles of sin forever. Live with truth and mercy within your hearts and give the same to your brothers and sisters. Trust always in God and bring all of your concerns before Him. Offer your trials for the work of redemption and pray fervently for our Father to allow more time for preparation. I come before our Father and my Adored Son, Jesus, and offer my sorrowful tears for all of my children. Allow me to be your guide and to lead you to the path which will take you to The Father and His merciful love. Do not fear to call upon Him for help as He waits patiently for the time of your return and embrace. A glorious life awaits those who seek to join once more with their heavenly family. Do not feel alone for you will never be abandoned or left behind. When you think that He or The Christ or myself are not near to you it is because you have closed your eyes and blocked your vision. Return to the Godhead and find peace and unimaginable joy. Contemplate upon the love which is given and accept that unfathomable love which is always available to any who ask.

29th March 2006

Those who know my Adored Son and love Him will receive many graces so that they too will carry His Light to those who live in darkness. As always some will choose to follow the Light and others will turn away. Realise that even those who choose to deny are called, all are called equally and without favour. The Eternal Father loves all of His children and His love continues even for those who reject Him. Pray for the power of The Holy Spirit to enter the hearts of your wayward brothers and sisters so their hearts may be softened and finally accept the truth and forgiveness which is offered to them.

Reach out to God in complete trust and believe in His compassion and love and you will know He exists. Many of His children today are ignoring the Gospel and ignoring or not obeying God's Commandments because of their selfish and greedy ways. Turn away from material matters and return to the riches of God and truly live your faith. Pray for those who are choosing to exist in the darkness even after they have been shown the light. More and more unrest and disturbances will happen if my children do not pray and repent. Evil thrives in the hearts of those who lack faith and conviction and who deny Almighty God. Pray that evil is driven away by the acceptance of Divine love and mercy by more of my dear children. Through prayer, fasting and penance, more will come to know The Christ so put your material things aside, take up your crosses and bring that the deceiver, satan, seeks your destruction. He will do everything in his power to blind you and seduce your mind and soul. He commands endless legions of godless followers and they will attempt to strike at you at all hours and in all ways. Offer your prayers asking Arch Angel Michael to help in resisting the forces which range against the faithful remnant.

You must open your heart to the love and light of My Adored Son. If you do not willingly open the door then He can not enter. I ask you to unlock the key and know His great love for you. Remain united in prayer and purpose for if you falter then you will become divided and satan will win his battle against so many of you. Return to the light of God with humility and well served penance as your offering of love to Him. I intercede for you in your requests and I know how The Father delights in His children's selfless prayers of love.

So many of my children need to be brought to conversion and they must be shown the truth by those who hold the truth. The faithful must, through action and imitation of The Christ, unbind the eyes of those who are as yet blinded. All depends on your actions and on your commitment to accept Almighty God's Holy Will. If you are witnesses to the truth then BE witnesses in every way. Display your faith and do not quietly hold back and expect others to act. If you truly believe then show all that you do believe. The time for quiet and hidden belief has long passed for you are disciples of The Christ, Jesus, My Son. He calls you to stand up and be seen as warriors in His Holy army. Do not let your families and friends be lost when you can help to bring about their salvation. When you stand and face the enemy know that evil will never defeat righteousness and satan and hell can not stand against the final confrontation with the God of mercy and goodness. Be prepared and ready to repel satan and be willing and ready to march against him. Armour yourself with scripture and the Sacraments and let the strength of prayer allow you to hold firm against all evil spirits and to be victorious for the love of God and all His children.

29th August 2005

Much of what is to occur can no longer be avoided. Your prayers have caused much to be lessened but I ask you to realise that the weight of sin which causes these signs to abound can not be lessened greatly by a few minutes of prayer. Much prayer is needed to outweigh the accumulated and unrepented sins in the world. Pray for Almighty God's merciful justice for all the innocents who are in danger at this time. It is often the case that prayer is offered to Our Father in time of need and disaster. Some offer prayers in thanksgiving. How many who call upon Almighty God truly amend their ways and carry forward with a sincere and contrite heart? Prayer must be sincere and those offering the prayer must live their lives from that moment in a manner which is pleasing to God. God accepts and responds to sincere prayers. Insincerity is an abomination which saddens The Father as much as all other sin

3rd September 2005

Why do my dear children always look for signs? I have said many times that your most important requirement is to be prepared in order for your eternal soul to find salvation. Signs abound for those who have the knowledge and wisdom gained from the Holy Scriptures. Signs in their own right mean nothing unless you are willing to respond to them. They exist to guide those with little or no faith to seek The peace offered by The Eternal Father. Those with faith and hope do not need to worry about the signs and always everything can be mitigated. What signs do you need to know the weight of sin which chokes the world? What signs do you need to know that satan is rampant and converting so many to his way. Seek a simple life and immerse yourself in prayer and contemplation of the love and mercy you are given each day. Spend time with my adored Son in the most Blessed Sacrament of The Eucharist. Be an imitation of the Christ to all you meet and show His love through your actions. If people ask for signs then tell them to read scripture and they will better understand God's unfolding plan. All is revealed there as I have said many times. Read Luke 21, 25-26 and if that is not plain enough for all then read Matthew 3.2 and do not take it to mean anything other than is stated. Prepare in this time of grace for prevailing sin must be cleansed.

8th September 2005

This night I lift all of your prayers up to The Eternal Father. I ask you to continue your prayers for the need is greater now than ever before. Many of my children blame others for the trials that they have. They seek to place responsibility on anyone except them selves and they disregard the reasons for their suffering. Trials come about either because you willingly ask for them or as a consequence of the life you lead. I have to tell you that those who live a life of indulgence and selfishness and moral abandonment will pay severely when the time comes to stand and be judged by Almighty God. Many trials are coming and if you have prepared as I have requested you to be then fear will not exist within you. Your prayers mitigate much but more signs will come soon. Be prepared and be in a state of grace. Another great movement in the world will happen soon and again many will try to rationalise it or blame God. The true blame is placed firmly on the weight of the sin and abomination resting on the souls of so many of my wayward, lost children. Bring them back to the light and warmth of loving Gods embrace through the truth of My Adored Son as shown by His Gospels and His sacrifice.

30th September 2005

All of my children were made by The Eternal Father and for The Eternal Father. When this understanding comes to you then no further explanation of your existence is necessary. Your very existence shows that there is a purpose to your life because God has allowed that existence. Be humble before and obedient to The Father and grateful for the love and light He has shown to you. Do not oppose His Holy Will for you, rather accept that which He offers and know that none are but He knows why He chooses you for the task He has for you. Trust in His will and mercy and love and follow as He directs.

26th March 2006

Pray this night for the entire world. Pray That those who have allowed material matters to rule their lives find the truth of the only permanent riches they can hope for and that is the love given by the Eternal Father. Pray that more and more will seek to listen to The Will of God in their special quiet time with Him and that more will listen to and act upon the messages that have been passed to you by the mercy of the Father. These messages of trust and hope are part of God's great blessing for all of His children. Live the messages and resist the temptation of satan and his evil ones. Do not allow his vile ways and smooth words to gain influence over you. The seducer can only enter the mind of the weak that do not truly live the truth of God's love as it should be lived. Keep your Sacramentals about you and trust in the great benefit they afford you. Your cross is a source of strength in time of temptation and a sign of the peace you have gained and give as a faithful witness to the passion and resurrection of The Christ. Do not listen to gossip and you will not be tempted to pass that which you hear. If your brother or sister offends then tell them who cause the offence and no one else. Remain steadfast in your faith and on guard always against a moment of weakness. When my time with you ends, the events I have shown to you will begin to gain momentum. Be prepared and learn and pass on your knowledge to all. Repent and amend your ways so you are ready at all times. Stay close to my Adored Son and spend more time with Him I am with you, so do not lose hope or confidence in Our Lord. In time, there will be no more suffering. Greet each new day with your fiat to doing God's Holy Will. Pray with me always and be ever thankful for the love and compassion which our Father shows to us in every way.

27th March 2006

I ask all of my faithful children to remain courageous during their coming trials. Grow in strength and holiness and be thankful for the time of grace which is given in order for you to be prepared. Bring many to salvation by gently and patiently guiding them to them the truth of my Adored Son, The Christ. The truth is light and is the light of faith and hope so keep hope foremost as you undergo your sufferings and trials and know that those trials aid in the salvation of so many. Find joy in obeying God's commandments and His will for you. Many are called and so very few answer and I ask those who do to help bear the burden which is neglected by those who live in darkness and denial. You are called to live a life in imitation of your brother, Jesus. In your imperfection you can seek to find perfection and I ask you to never cease trying to improve yourself. Pray and keep peace about you as much as you are able. Do not become distracted and if you do then acknowledge your weakness and seek to be stronger in your later devotions. For all souls prayer is necessary because those who are far from holiness can never approach it without prayer and those who are holy and faithful will loose direction and faith without prayer. Offer prayers to the Eternal father for all you undertake and in your silence listen to the counsel He gives to you. Be always be sure to use I less and increase the use of you. Seek to find what God's will is and do not worry about your personal wants. Gain strength and understanding within your prayers and contemplation. Be caring for each other and obedient to the Holy Commandment. Let love be the ruling factor in your life for all comes from love and is done for love and given with love. Give praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for the graces He gives you. Be patient and never lose sight of the wonderful image of heaven as it is revealed to you. Bear all your crosses and be confident that you are under the mantle of my protection and I lead you to the Most Sacred Heart of my Adored Son, Jesus. Trust in Him and live with His peace about you and within you.

24th March 2006

Do not allow the words which Almighty God gives to you to fall on deaf ears. His mercy is as His love and it never ceases regardless of how much you deny and ignore Him and His will for you. His love for all of His children never ends and I ask you to prepare now by asking The Eternal Father for the graces to freely choose His Mercy. Pray and reflect on the Divine Mercy of my Adored Son, Jesus. Help others to come to the knowledge of His Divine Mercy and always pray for His Mercy to come upon and be accepted by those who have not yet embraced His compassionate forgiveness. This time of Mercy for the world had been forewarned since the time of the old books and now this time is upon us. Each of my dear children must recognise and willingly accept His Mercy. Almighty God will not contravene your free will in this choice. After the awakening time no one will be able to claim that they did not know of the need to choose. All will know the truth of God's existence, that He is their creator and their Father. In that moment they will have the final chance to accept and repent. Help bring your brothers and sister to the understanding before that event so they experience the joy and peace that is found through the Christ now and may assist to bring others back to the lighted path. Learn from scripture and allow the wisdom given by the Holy spirit to move you to greater actions. Let the love and praise you feel for God be your strength in all you do. Read Micah 7 18 – 19

25th March 2006

I lead you to know my Adored Son through the words of The Father, which He allows me to give. He will give you graces so you may accept your time of trial in your own Gethsemane. Join your cross to the cross of The Christ and aid in the redemptive work of your brothers and sisters. Gratefully accept all the gifts and love that the Eternal Father showers upon you. Accept the sorrows and the sacrifices, the humiliation with peace and joy. Understand all that sin has set as a part of human nature, and accept the grace to overcome your darkness through the Light, which He alone can give. Find experience joy, peace, and love within the light which will surround and guide you. Do not falter in your obligation to your brethren and always keep the love you have been given as your focus and nourishment. Pray and never fail to find quiet contemplative time in which to speak and listen to the Father. Only through pray and discernment and fasting can you discover His will for you. Do not be concerned that you are not worthy for great mercies come to those who submit to the Will of God. He has created everything for you for your use and for your pleasure. It is an example of His love for you and Almighty God is love, complete love and you are a creation of His love. He has no need to love you, He simply gave you life you may share in the abundance He has. It was His desire to love you, not His need. You exist for God's purpose so accept that purpose and live accordingly. Live the call that He gave as revealed in the book of Isaiah 43 :1 and find His will.

Express your love for your Heavenly Father through prayer. Prayer is the way you show your love. Adore Him and be thankful for all He does and give thanks for His great sacrifice upon the cross. Be a humble loving child and find pleasure in the eyes of your Father. Become a living sacrifice to Him and dedicate your life in service to Him. The greatest love you can show to Him is shown through prayer and thanksgiving which is offered in spite of the trials you bear or the darkness which surrounds you and regardless of the distance you feel exists between you and The Father. In the darkest moments of your life you can show your real trust and love in Him by continuing to give thanks and praise for all which has and is happening. Know that you form part of the great family of God and as such He will not neglect any of His children who call His name in complete trust.

The nature of the family of mankind is never shown by a better example than through the bride of My Adored Son, His church on earth. The Bride is not just a group of people but a family. You are called, through the bride, to be a part of the family of God. My dear son Paul the Apostle tried to show this through His inspired letters and teachings. He showed such in his letter to the Romans in Chapter 12 verses 4 and 5. Remember that you are a part of the whole body of the bride and the entire family exists with you and about you and because you are a member of God's family you are never alone. You have support and encouragement so embrace those who joyfully will support and help and listen. As you grow in Holiness then know that the greater love which you foster as the church will flow out upon the entire human family. The bride was created by my adored Son through His passion and His love and purchased with His Precious Blood. Nurture and protect His legacy for all and bring many to salvation through the knowledge of the truth and love which comes from God as is God. Be joyful and loving and above all know peace. Experience the peace which passes all understanding. Peace can be found in many forms and places but seek the inner peace which comes only through the knowledge of God The Father Almighty and His love. It is a peace which encompasses the truth of The Christ and it is a peace which will sustain you through all time. It will be your refuge in the tempest and such great peace is found in faith. Know that My Adored Son give peace when you come to Him and spend time with Him. His peace gives protection and with His peace in your soul nothing can harm you and nothing will ever touch you. I ask you to not forget that you are called to be an example of your brother, The Christ. Be as He is in all which you do. When you fail to be as He would be or fail to include Him in your life, great frustration can come upon you. Obstacles block the way because by excluding Him you remove some of the protection He offers and you allow satan to enter into your life. Trust in almighty God and help Him achieve His divine plans. Allow Him to smooth the road for you and allow Him to remove the blockages in your life. Grow in your knowledge and understanding and learn all you can of the Eternal Father by listening to His words as revealed in Holy Scripture. Follow the messages He has given to you through me and be patient. Do not concern your self with how quickly things occur or how slowly they may seem to move for some great things take a lifetime to construct for it is through slow construction that a strong structure is formed. The Eternal Father is not in a hurry to make you and to mould you to be an example of His Love. He will take His time with you as he polishes you and makes you firm in your formation. He will temper you with time. Forgo your weaknesses and let them become strengths and turn your trials into triumphs for the most Sacred Heart of My Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. Through your example show others the way to gain strength and to be victorious for God. I call upon my children to be soldiers for The Christ and to put on their amour and ready for battle. Know that The Eternal Father uses you regardless of your weaknesses for the certain knowledge that the weak are worthy and can be used, gives hope to those who are weak. Everyone, as I have said before, has a purpose for the Eternal Father so accept that which you are able to do and that which you are not able to do. Rejoice that there are others who are greater than you in many things and be thankful for your great assets and strengths. Rejoice and give praise to the eternal Father. Read St Paul again in the second letter to the Corinthians Chapter 12 verse 10. Give praise and Glory always for all you have and will have. Look forward in courage to the wondrous renewal of the earth.

8th October 2005

My heart weeps and the Eternal Father is saddened that so many of His children are not prepared as he has asked them to be. Let a prayer be the first thing to pass your lips each day. Prayer prepares you the coming trials of the day and it is your first nourishment and your strength to over come the obstacles placed in your path. Give honour and praise to The Father for all you are to receive. Give thanks for his love and that he allowed his blood to flow for the forgiveness of your sins. Every time you commit a sin you place my adored Son back on the cross. He forgives all who come to him in humility and with a repentant and contrite heart. He calls all to be with Him in His glorious eternity. Bring as many of your brothers and sisters to Him as you are able. Salvation awaits those who embrace His truth and walk in His loving light. Forgiveness and salvation are found in the true desire to please Almighty God and the obedience of all of his simple and perfect commandments. God is perfect and so are his words and his will.

2nd November 2005

I call you to pray,pray,pray. Love is needed if ever you are to have peace. Peace is what you are asked to live in and express to each other through your imitation of The Christ. Peace is being thrown away by your actions and intolerance.

fooled by the seducer into believing that unrepented sin is forgiven as a matter of course because you merely believe in Jesus. Many of my children are living in mortal sin and they must understand the danger that places upon their immortal soul. Sin is real and present and many try to deny it as a reality. Come away from the darkness and return to the light in humility and with joy in your hearts. Pray and receive the Sacraments as often as you can. Find solitude in which to contemplate God's great love for all of His children. Become loving and obedient children of the God of love and compassion and mercy. Do not be caught napping when The Christ calls you but be prepared for His approach at all times. Show your love for Him not just with words, but through your deeds as well. Whoever believes in Him and loves Him will gain His Mercy and be given strength to endure all trials. Bear your crosses and let it be shown that your love for the truth of The Christ outweighs any material and personal possessions you may have or hold. It is time to show that to believe means to truly give your all to Him. Find the peace which comes upon you as you embrace your brother Jesus and accept His forgiveness.

22nd March 2006

So many times I talk of suffering and the need for prayers. Keep praying for your prayers are heard and answered. Give thanks for the great salvation of life given to so many this week. Material losses can be replaced but know that almighty God protected many this week. Make sacrifice and offer your penance for the grace⁴ of salvation to come upon your brothers and sisters. be prepared to be used in the redemptive work of mankind for so much needs to be done as so many are far away from the light. Bear your burdens with quiet acceptance and do not become bitter or embroiled in argument because of them. Know that I have you under the protection of My Mantle and there you will find peace and time to gain understanding. Do not be afraid are words which were spoken to me and my beloved Joseph and they resonate to this day . They are the words My Adored Son spoke to the fishermen as He called them to seek a new catch. He spoke those words at His resurrection and in doing so He charged all with a solemn duty to be not afraid. You will achieve so much when you act boldly and form firm conviction rather than out of fear. Fear is a cloud upon your judgement and a diversion which causes no good. Trust and pray and fast. Read the Holy Scriptures and learn from them. Take strength from what is contained with in and relearn the wisdom of the past. Read psalm 118 and be nourished, read vewrses¹³ and 14 particularly and keep faith and hope alive. By your action and example of peace many can be brought to The Christ.

23rd March 2006

Pray that greater numbers of your brothers and sisters will repent and find forgiveness before it's too late. Almighty God is love and Mercy but His mercy will not be upon those who come before Him unrepentant. Pray in make sacrifices in order to amend for the sins those who do not yet know the presence of God. Seek to carry the burden for those who will not and act in humility. Let your prayer always be a true conversation with our Father in Heaven. In your prayer contemplation and reading of Scripture you will be able to open your heart and accept His presence into your lives. Seek Him in silence and in solitude. He awaits you and longs to see all come into the light He has shone upon the world. Be prepared for the day comes when He will return. He will return in radiant splendour as the dispenser of The great Divine mercy which will shine from His Most Sacred Heart which is the great fountain of His love. Allow all whom you meet to know that the fountain of His mercy is open to all who willingly desire it. I ask my children, again, to turn away from sin and to acknowledge and accept Almighty God's love and compassion. Bring the knowledge and truth of the Mercy of The Christ to your brothers and sisters. To deny your brethren this great message of Mercy is to deny the truth of your brother, The Christ, for Jesus is love and mercy itself. Find peace in your day by taking time to pray and speak with The Christ. Trust in Him and know He is with you always and all you need to do is turn to Him in humility and complete surrender to His love. Much has been said between you and I and not much remains to be taught. Remember what you have been given is from Almighty God our Father and draw upon that knowledge through the remainder of your days. Use the knowledge and help bring souls to salvation through the acceptance of the word of Christ. As this month passes away so will my time I spend when you are allowed to see me and talk with me. I will be with you completely on the date of anniversary only as I have been allowed to promise. On other days I will speak with you when there is a need but I will be with you holding your hand always and I want you to know that I give to all that which I give to you. I give you my maternal love and blessing and pass to you the love and blessings of The Father and The Son and The Holy Spirit One God in three persons forever.

Give thanks and praise for all which you have been given. Give thanks especially for the trials and tests which come your way and bear the crosses with humility and dignity. Do not complain for all you are given comes to you through the will of The Eternal Father. Trust in His love and know that He is with you in your moments of need. Keep your focus on Him in all which happens and know that He will turn all to His purpose in His own way. Do not loose hope for in the midst of adversity the light of my adored Son, Jesus, is the foundation you will hold on to. Do not be distracted by your trials and persecutions instead allow God to be with you during them. Grow in knowledge and love of The Lord and receive His compassion and Divine Mercy each day. Spend time in peace and solitude each day and feel His closeness to you at that time. Trust and keep peace about you.

21st March 2006

Please pay attention to the messages I am allowed to pass on to you and know that they come from the love and compassion which the Eternal Father has for all of His children. Give thanks for the grace of time which Almighty God gives to you in order to prepare for the trials and purification which is to come. Use this time well, for this time of mercy will not remain forever. This is the time to return to the Father and receive The Divine Mercy of my Adored Son, The Christ. Do not be

Peace is what I, your Mother, and The Eternal Father seek for you and from you. I come to give warnings and when events happen do not say to yourselves that you were not informed. My Adored Son has given many warnings through the words I have been allowed to give to you. He has asked you to be prepared in order that you remain aware and ready. Again He asks you to prepare. Pray and receive the Sacraments, fast and perform your penance in this time of grace. Almighty God the Father, does not want to cause fear in your hearts. He is love and from that love He seeks merely to give all of His children the opportunity to accept His unending love and mercy. Accept it now and have the joy of His love with you always. He never withdraws His love or forgiveness but you must respond while you have time to consciously accept His graces. What joy there is in Heaven and among the host of heaven when a soul is saved and the truth and light is passed on. Show the truth as revealed in the Gospels and be disciples of The Christ and witnesses to hope

8th November 2005

I thank you for your presence here this night and I ask that you take the messages which I am allowed to give to you and accept the graces which The Eternal Father desires to give to you. Accept His gifts of love and mercy and seek forgiveness from Him for all of your wrongdoing. Know that the way to The Father is through My Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ for He is the Truth. Gain the knowledge of His Truth and show no fear, for within the truth fear does not exist. Be willing witnesses to His Truth and pass His Truth on to all of your brothers and sisters that they may walk in the love and the light of The Christ. Accept the gifts of The Holy Spirit and gain wisdom and understanding. Be humble and obedient and trust Almighty God The Father in all matters. Accept His Holy Will into your lives and remove the distractions which keep you from Him. Come to Him in prayer and receive the Sacraments often. Joyfully perform your penance and pray for all souls which are in Purgatory. Pray that all may be joined in the Eternal Glory of God The Father. Know that the great day will come when all will see the advent of His Glory and Splendour and pray that you remain awake and prepared for His coming. Trust in Him in all you do and always give praise and glory to The Blessed Trinity for all for all they do for you, have done for you and are to do for you.

18th November 2005

Know the love that My Adored Son Jesus and I, your Mother, have for you all. Even though I reign in Heaven, My Immaculate Heart is always with my children, and the Most Sacred Heart of The Christ is always ready to protect and strengthen you though all your trials.

26th November 2005

You approach the celebration of God's great gift. By His birth as a child He showed you His great humanity and His great love. He was born to be sacrificed for your sins and to purchase for you, your redemption. The time for the realization of God's promises is soon to come. Be prepared and ready to meet

Him when He calls you. Reach out in love to your brothers and sisters and allow your focus to remain upon Almighty God and His plan and merciful deliverance. Listen to the words He gives to you and gain strength and knowledge from the Scriptures. Immerse your self in prayer and contemplation. All was foretold from the beginning and I ask you to read the Scriptures and look with renewed understanding and sight. Haggai 2 6-9

6th December 2005

All of the prayers you offer are received with gratitude by Almighty God but know that in order for prayers to be truly effective they must be accompanied by good actions and good deeds. Through your actions you show your love for my Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. Your actions give a reflection of His love and an imitation of Him. Through your actions you show your willingness to live a life which is pleasing to The Eternal Father. Allow the love of The Christ to shine in your heart and let His love and light be passed to all who you meet as you reach out in His service.

8th December 2005

I ask you to walk hand in hand with me and walk in the light and the truth of my Adored Son. Trust completely in the Will of Almighty God for when you walk with my Son and trust in The Father then love will be within you and you will have peace. So many times I call you to peace and I call you to show the love which is within you to your brothers and sisters for it is through love that salvation will be gained for many souls. Trust and walk in the light for these are the principles which you must remember if you are to step out boldly in faith and be courageous in your faith as you reach out. Never loose sight of the love of The Christ and wait patiently for His return. The early apostles lost sight of The Christ and thought He had left them alone. They did not fully understand that which He had told them. My dear friend never lost hope or sight of My Adored Son and she waited patiently at the tomb for His return. Her faith was such that she was rewarded by becoming the apostle to the apostles. It fell upon her to witness the glorious sight of the resurrected Christ and the moment when redemption dawned upon the earth. Trust in the power of His mercy and forgiveness which is poured on you. Willingly accept and recognise his gifts and love and promote that love to all. Receive the Sacraments often, pray and read the Holy Scriptures. The scriptures are the way to understanding Read the gospels and the letters. Read the old and the new books for the wisdom of all ages is contained within those pages. Answers for all of your questions from the past and present, and even those questions as yet unasked are found in those books. Trust and love and be at peace. Read the Gospel of John Chapter 14 verses 1 – 4 and also read the letter to The Philippians 1 verses 9 – 11 Stay at peace , I thank you for being with me this night.

9th December 2005

My Adored Son taught the fishermen to cast their net and catch fish of a different kind and they truly became fishers for men's souls. Take the peace and the love eventually. His children are on a path of destruction and desolation. The creation longs to become the creator and try to manipulate that which only God understand and has the right to make or destroy. Return now to His love and joy and return in humility and in contrition for the sins you have collectively committed.

My children, as your Heavenly Mother I beg you to listen to My words that come from our loving Father. Prayer and penance can change the course, but not the fact, of many of the hateful and disastrous events which are to come upon you. The great spiritual battle is shown in the physical conflicts which abound at this time and many of the good will perish with the bad as has been the case as always. Atone for your wickedness now and return to God and His light. Allow love of God to become the ruling emotion in your lives Love one another in the same way as Jesus loves you. Do not belittle the great sacrifice He made for you and do not ignore it. Accept and acknowledge His passion and live in His image. Trust and obey the word of God and know that when God is your focus then you will be steadfast in all trials. Be at peace in Christ and find that the deep love within you will overflow and pass to all you meet.

19th March 2006 Divine Mercy

Great strength is needed to overcome the trials which are placed before you. Strength is found through prayer and fasting and contemplation. All of God's children must enter their individual wilderness at some point in their life. All must be tested in their patience, in their perseverance, in their understanding and in their trust. I ask you to enter the desert with Christ, my Son, as your companion and never will you feel abandoned. Listen to the words with which He will guide you. Trust in the compassion and Mercy He has for each of His brothers and sisters. Love and compassion are the elements which bind man to Almighty God. It was out of love that He took human form and nature and suffering. He knows your fears and anguish because He has felt that same things. He went into the desert to prepare for His time so you also must take time to be alone with Him as He took time to be alone with our Father. Trust in His Mercy and plan for you in the redemptive work in which all can play a part. Draw understanding from the words you are given and find peace as you come close to the Most Sacred Heart of My Adored Son. Seek the will of The Eternal Father through your contemplation of The Passion and forgiveness that is offered for you. Give a simple truth to your brothers and sisters so they may find salvation. Know that those who hear the Word and follow it will live in The Christ and He will never leave them.

The Word is love and light and mercy and the Word brings understanding, peace, and unfathomable joy to the world. Stay at peace so you may love and serve the Lord. Read Psalm 31 23-24

My children, I come to you So that you may be guided along the narrow path which leads to my Adored Son, Jesus. I lead your steps and I protect your life. Return to the love which The Christ has for you. Through prayer and faith. You are not able to carry out God's Will alone so please spend time in prayer and discernment and fasting. It is time now to increase your prayer time so allow yourselves to be in union with Almighty God's Will and plan by submitting to this simple discipline. Let go of your corruptible material ways so that you come to enjoy the joyful simplicity of life with Our Father. Remove yourselves from the distractions in your life which blind and deafen you to the will of God. Seek peace and quiet so that you may truly hear God's words to you. I ask you to take the truth contained in the Holy Scriptures to your brothers and sisters. Please live the truth and be an example towards all your brothers and sisters. Live the guidance I am allowed to give to you and let all know of our Fathers love and compassion. Let go of your attachment to worldly possessions and begin to live more simply. Surrender your will to The Christ and trust in His love and mercy which He pours out for all of His brothers and sisters. Willingly submit to His mercy and see the great promise of eternal life and joy unfold for you. Do not be afraid of the unknown for a lamp will always be with you and the love and protection I give to you will be your safety.

I want to lead all of my children to the most Sacred Heart of my Adored Son, Jesus. He will give you comfort and protection so turn to Him during your life when trials come upon you and He will help smooth the rough waters and straighten the pathway. Do not concern your self when opponents speak against that which you love and know but pray instead for those who speak falsely. Pray for those who persecute and have turned their backs on Loving and Almighty God our Father. Help them to open their hearts to the reception of His love. Know, believe and trust in Jesus and look to His truth for daily guidance. You are loved by your brother Jesus and in His love and sight you will find understanding. Seek always to show the truth, as revealed in Scripture, and let your diverted brothers and sisters know that truth so they may be guided back to their true path and to salvation. Many times you will be asked to bear your burden for the redemptive work of God and I want you to know that Almighty God will give you the strength needed to carry your crosses for The Christ. Pray and give thanks for the gifts you have been given. If you are lost then come before The Eternal Father in humility and with a contrite heart and feel His love enter your soul as you are welcomed back by His embrace. Accept His love and invitation to return home during this time of grace you have been given for the time to act is always now and not later.

18th March 2006

Many have turned away from Almighty God our Father and ignore the teachings of my Adored Son, Jesus and shun the guidance and protection with which I, Your Heavenly Mother, have been entrusted. You must learn that peace can not be found in aggression and forced occupation of your brothers and sisters homes. Some many have suffered through the disaster of wars and yet wars still continue. There will be more wars more fighting and more immoral activities such as that and I can not ask The Father to stay His hand forever and He must act of my beloved shrine with you as to go to that place from where you came. Take the inspiration with you to be fishers of souls. Reach out to all those who come into your path and trust in the Holy Will of The Father and know that through love all things are possible. Redemption comes through love and I ask you to show that message to your friends and your families and to your groups. Allow the love of my Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ and His truth and His light to grow within you and through you. Pray for strength and it will be given for you to lead as many as you can to the truth and the lighted narrow path which leads to The Eternal Father. He pours His blessings and graces upon you so recognise them and accept them. Give thanks and praise for all He has done for you and will do for you. Trust in Him completely and know that He awaits you and your compliance with patience. Exercise patience in all of your dealings and know that perseverance wins many rewards. Be at peace always and know that I, your heavenly Mother, love you more than you could imagine and that my love is greater than any earthly love for my love leads you to The Christ.

15th December 2005

I ask you to not turn your backs on My Adored Son and wilfully enter into the darkness. All who accept His truth and light and live accordingly will know the joy of living in harmony with Almighty God's Will. As the moon reflects the light of the sun I reflect the light of My Son. I desire to lead you to Him so that the light may be reflected through you and into the dark night of the world. Pray that salvation will be accepted by your brothers and sisters at this time of grace. Trust in God's plan and allow His love to be seen by all. You must reflect His light which is His love. Give thanks for the little graces you are given. Find the gifts of God in everything you do and say and see. All is freely given to you so share the beauty which God gives and the peace which he sends in His Son, through The Holy Spirit. Let peace and love prevail while there is time to achieve that peace. Let joy and compassion fill your hearts when you join with My Adored Son in the reception of His Sacred body. Pray for others and selflessly continue to give all for their benefit.

21st December 2005

I ask you to reach out in love to all whom you meet. Love completely and love unconditionally. Love allows you to find mercy and compassion and peace Let love rule your life for truly peace starts with love. At this time you celebrate peace and love so really look at the love which was offered to you and shown through the truth and words of my Adored Son. His love is on show for all to see but many are blind. Many with good sight have little vision and many with little sight see much. The Christ healed one who was blind but had great vision. His humility and hope, borne of faith, allowed him to see what those who walked around him each day could not see. Read the scriptures and see the love contained within them. Live the truth and be obedient to the Eternal Father's Holy commandments. The greatest vision is obtained through closed eyes in a humble bowed head. Give thanks to God for your blessings which He gives daily. Accept His grace and His Holy will and you will never loose your sight. The light of the Christ will always shine in your eyes and as the days grow shorter and the nights darker that light will always guide you and illuminate the narrow path to Almighty God. Trust and be at peace. The blessings of the Holy Trinity are given to you this night; accept these gifts which are given through with and in love. I ask you to read Ezekiel 36 : 22 to 27 and always honour our Father in Heaven.

22nd December 2005

May peace and joy surround you at this time. Rest certain in the knowledge that you are loved beyond all measure by your Heavenly Father, you are loved by my adored Son, you are loved by me and you are loved by my dear husband. When you ache we feel your pain. When you grieve we cry with you and when you feel alone we are always waiting to comfort and embrace you. You are important because you are part of the greater body which forms the bride of my Adored Son. Stay close to us and all your needs will be fulfilled. Trust in the mercy and compassion of The Eternal Father and He will give you every grace. Filled with His abundant Graces which are given through The Holy Spirit you will bring many souls to the path of salvation. Always perform God's Will for you and give thanksgiving through your prayer and actions. Love and serve The Lord as you have been asked and look forward to your glorious eternity when all tears will be wiped away and hunger and thirst will be no more.

22nd December 2005 (evening)

Be thankful for the gift of humility which comes from the Holy Spirit. A humble confession given with the benefit of a truly contrite heart and well performed penance opens your heart to the graces which The Eternal father showers upon you. Keep peace about you in every way and perform the Holy Will of God in all of the tasks you undertake. Do all which you do and say and convey for the greater glory of The Blessed Trinity. Seek comfort in My Immaculate Heart for I will always lead you to My Adored Son if you truly desire to receive Him. Spend quiet time in reflection and prayer and accept the inspiration given by The Holy Spirit. Act always in love and with compassion and mercy. Be a reflection of The Christ and let His light shine through you to all of your brothers and sisters.

23rd December 2005

Use this time of grace wisely and repair your broken soul. Remove the barriers which prevent you becoming closer to The Eternal father. Work each day to grow in humility and holiness and earnestly perform penance for your sins. Stay close to The Most Sacred Heart of my Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ and He will protect you against the trials and persecutions which come your way. Prayer is your great protection, so please spend more quiet time in conversation with our loving Father. Increase your desire to perform the Will of Almighty God. Allow the Holy Spirit to be within you and lead you in the right direction. God desires to be included in your every day so do not remove Him and His great Graces. Peace is upon those who accept the Truth and live the life of a disciple of The Christ. I will guide you to Him if only you will take my hand and trust.

15th March 2006 Midday

The Eternal Father gives His loving blessing to you this day. Never fail to give thanks in every day to the blessings which H gives to you. Accept His will into your life and let go of your worldly concerns. Help bring your brothers and sisters to the light which is the troth of my Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. Let go of your burdens and concerns for every thing which happens must come about because of your free will. Freely you and others must accept the love of The Christ and individually you must come to him and receive His loving embrace which He waits to give to you. Do not put conditions upon your faith and belief and do not put Our Father to the test. He has already answered any test of His love which you may have by His outpouring of His love and compassion and mercy upon Calvary. Trust in Him in all which you do and help show His truth to every one you meet. Reach out in gentle love and patience and allow all to freely find the path back to their home.

Be compassionate, as Almighty God is compassionate. Through compassion and mercy you will receive the insight that allows you to become an imitation of The Christ. Allow your heart to be opened to the unfathomable love of The Eternal Father and the darkness which hides the truth will be gone. Do not waste one moment of the precious time you have been granted for preparation for as you are aware all things come about in God's time and not yours. You are loved beyond all measure so I ask you to return that love to our Father through commitment to the salvation of your brothers and sisters. Do not spend time on meaningless activities which gain nothing for your soul and only serve to keep you from spending proper time with God. Do not rush your time with Him be patient as He is patient and share all of your thoughts and worries with Him. Be thoughtful, caring and loving towards one another for in that way you also will imitate the Christ. Come to the protection of His most Sacred Heart with my guidance. I will gently take you along the path of salvation and I ask you to be gentle with those whom you guide. Trust in the living truth of my Adored Son and in His forgiveness. Keep your faith focus and simple for true faith is simple and pure and precious. Care for and feed your faith through the reception of the Sacraments and through the Holy Scriptures. Grow in knowledge and in peace through the reception of the gifts of The Holy Spirit as given from Our Father and through His only Son. Read Hebrews 11 1 and do not complicate matters.

16th March 2006

Faith is necessary for trust and prayer strengthens your faith. Keep courage about you and pray for strength to guide and to be led. You can show the truth to all but you can not compel someone to believe. Faith alone will allow that to happen within their hearts. Love those who are the cause of you trials all the more and let your example kindle faith within them. I ask you to spend time in conversation with my Adored Son, Jesus, so you are able to strengthen your

14th March 2006

Allow Almighty God to be the focus and purpose in your lives so that you do not become lost to the simple way of living your faith. Keep your hearts open to the love and graces He gives to you and do not be disturbed by the trials which come your way. When things seem darkest then He is with you even more closely.

Take the peace He offers to you and let that inner peace which is given be your sustenance. Pray for those who seek to hinder your ability to reach out and who seek only to serve their own selfish agenda. Be humble and selfless in your actions and be a true example of my Adored Son to everyone you meet. You will be judged not by the number of trials you endure but by the way in which you bear those trials. Maintain your trust and hope in the face of everything which will come to pass. Both good and bad events will come your way and I ask you to accept both, equally. Almighty God does not allow events to happen by chance for coincidence does not exist in the divine plan. To everything there is a purpose and reason and through prayer you may come to understand. Come to a closer union with our Father in this time of preparation and always try to do His will instead of yours.

14th March 2006(evening)

Trust always in the love and mercy of Almighty God and also in His Holy plan for all. He knows your weaknesses and hurts and He feels them as you do. Do not allow yourself to be distracted or dismayed by what seems like opposition. Many times you will be tested and many times you will fall. Faith and hope will be the truths which allow you to rise from your falls. Many signs point the way to the one narrow path to Almighty God's glory. The means by which you arrive at the destination is an individual journey and the important thing is to not lose your focus on salvation and eternal joy. Respect those who differ and love them just the same as if they agreed with you. Keep the conversion of your brothers and sisters in your mind at all times. I intercede for you to our Father and I stand ready to lead you always to His light. Keep your peace which comes from the knowledge and acceptance of The Christ and be willing to do His will as He reveals it to you. Many of my children are drifting at this moment and lost in an ocean of diversions and deceptions. Many seek to find safe refuge but lack the direction to do so. Guide them to safety and help show them the path to sanctuary. Our Eternal Father waits for them to find their way home to His love and they must realise that it is their choice alone to return. Act out of love and compassion always and allow your actions to be for the benefit and glory of Almighty God and the salvation of others. Selfless actions are needed in a time of increasing selfishness and opposition will be great but with God's grace you will stand strong and firm in your belief. Prayer and perseverance are needed to carry you through so spend quiet and meaningful time each day talking with God and The Christ and allow them to change you through the reception of the gifts given to you through The Holy Spirit.

25th December 2005

Come to know the peace of My Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. You have celebrated His birth this day and I ask you again to truly contemplate the greatness of what happened on that day. God came to earth with the weakness and dependence of a new born child. He was born in poverty and simplicity. He was born for your redemption. The Eternal Father allowed Himself to be born to humility so you could learn the benefit of humility and He was born to a poverty of the heart so you may learn the richness of asking and wanting nothing and giving all. I wrap you in my mantle this night and ask you to realise that I offer you protection and give you direction to The Most Sacred Heart of The Christ. Reach out with out fear for so much still remains to be done and so many must be led to the truth and light and real purpose of their being. Freely accept the gifts you are given from The Father with gratitude and in humility. Know that The Eternal Father's purpose is for those gifts to be used in the salvation of your brothers and sisters. Join with the many other beacons of light through the world and bring Christ's love and compassion to all. Pray for strength and guidance, read Holy Scripture, receive The Sacraments often and always obey Almighty God's Holy Commandments. This night I ask you to read and accept the message from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians 14 verses 3 to 5. Find, accept and keep God's peace within you always.

26th December 2005

The purpose of gaining knowledge is for you to be able to share that knowledge. When you have the truth and love of my Adored Son within your heart you have a duty to The Eternal Father, as well as your brothers and sisters, to share that truth. I ask you to pray for discernment and strength at this crucial time. Use the grace of time to bring as many wayward souls to salvation as you are able. Remove the darkness which is in so many souls by shining the light of Christ's love and compassion and forgiveness into them. Be witnesses to Christ's love for all that He is and does and will do is from and through love. Pray for all your brothers and sisters, pray for the souls of those who have gone before you in order to help them to achieve the glory of heaven. Spend time with your brother The Christ in front of The Tabernacle. His true presence patiently awaits you there. Give thanks each day for God's love which was poured out on Calvary and by all of His disciples through out the ages who were obedient to the Truth unto death. Be renewed through their example which was a true imitation of Jesus. Be obedient and faithful children of The Eternal Father and draw many to Him through the love and Mercy of The United Hearts of both myself and My Son, The Christ. He has purchased your salvation with His precious blood and great love. Perform the Holy Will of God and find unimaginable peace and joy. Read Holy Scripture for nourishment and understanding. Read St Paul's letter to the Colossians Chapter 4 verses 2 to 6 and read 1 Peter 1 verses 17 to 19. Do not fear your persecution, welcome it, and always speak with truth and with confidence in the protection afforded to you by your loving Father.

29th December 2005

Soon all will come to realise that The Great Hour of Mercy is coming upon the earth. You must use the time which is lovingly given to you to become prepared. The eternal father seeks the salvation of all of His children. Sadly many will not respond. Their hearts are as stone and they willingly do not allow any of God's love or light to become part of their existence. Many rationalise and say that they are good people and that will be enough to gain salvation. Many do good works but their motives are wrong. Help others in order to allow them to feel love. Help others so that they may gain hope. Help others so that their hearts will be filled with joy. Always help in a selfless and humble manner. Do not seek to make yourself feel good for having helped. Do not seek recognition or status because you have helped. Truly those who help the most and remain unknown and act completely from love and mercy are the ones who will have their actions repaid in full by The Father. They shall be filled with the joy of knowing God while they still walk the earth. That joy will radiate from them and the peace which accompanies that joy will settle on many who are in need of peace and uplifting.

You stand on the edge of a new year and I tell you that those who forget the past are bound to repeat it. Look at the actions you have performed in the past year and seek to remove the failings of the past from your future. Seek to know God more fully by coming to Him in prayer and accepting His forgiveness and light. He came to you to show you the example of a well lived life. He showed you how to perform good works, how to pray, how to be responsible, how to reach out in love and compassion. He showed you how to accept the gift of living and dying for God's Holy Will. His example is what you must strive to achieve in the future. A year is but a short moment in the eyes of Eternal and Patient God. Reflect on the year as you have seen it. Has the year been truly one in which you can honestly say I did all that I could for others. The year passing has been one of great signs and great tribulations. It has also been one of many graces. Most of my children remember the trials but few recognised or even realised the graces. Such is your nature that you find God in pain and horror but not in rescue and safe outcomes. You blame God yet you congratulate yourself and in doing so forget who gave you your abilities and skills.

Much pain exists and it can be lessened but my children have to want to lessen it and must willingly do all they are capable of to create a more merciful world. Wars rage across the nations and the earth trembles and swallows entire regions. The waves inundate the land and the mountains slip away. The landscape becomes desolate and the forests are razed. The air is made unclean, the waters become bitter and so many children are not safe or free to grow without fear or hunger. Those who are within the protection of their mother are placed at risk more and more each day. You have corrupt and weak leaders, you elect and follow the morally bereft and the pride filled harbingers of hatred and selfishness. You offer protection and proclaim consensus to abominations and you allow many to mock Almighty God and insult His gift. You live with more regard to material gain that you have respect for spiritual wealth. All of the

of your brothers and sisters are on the path to death and sin has blossomed because of the refusal to see the truth and the desire to be as worldly as others seem to be. The lust for pleasure and happiness through non-spiritual and perishable ways is rampant. The want to have a life of convenience has outweighed the need to be selfless and humble and willing to bear hardship and penance. Return to God's open arms now. Turn away from satan and his evil brood of vipers. They wait to destroy your soul through the appeal to your greed and selfish side. Accept God and learn humility and He will show you the joy to be obtained through simple service and simple actions and simple, pure love. Remain focused on the light and truth of The Christ and never fail to stand against injustice and immoral behaviour. Be firm in your belief about the sanctity of life and know that all which the creator creates is made for a reason. He does not create in order for his children to destroy His creation. That stands for all of His creation be it animal or vegetable or mineral. He is especially grieved when so many of His unborn are killed by the hands of those He has given talents to for the protection and support of life. He cries for the innocents whose blood flows like a river, he mourns those killed by violence from their brothers and sisters. He will judge all according to the mercy and compassion and love they show to each other. Repent and return to the righteous path of light which is the love of God given through His Son by The Holy Spirit. If those who are in such a dreadful state do not repent and alter their lives they will be lost to hell and God will weep for them even though they do not weep for what they do.

I want you to realise the depth of forgiveness which is shown to you through the sacrifice of my Adored Son, Jesus. He forgave you all of your sins and his blood cleansed you and helps remove the power of satan to have influence over you. Pray to accept His love and mercy. Seek understanding through penance and fasting. Truly make a sacrifice in this time of preparation by fasting in some way. When you put aside any selfish desires and allow only a hunger for The Eternal Father then you begin to truly be as one with Jesus. Share the relationship you have with The Father with your brothers and sisters and know that it is not enough to merely love God. You must share God's love with others. Almighty God wants you to give His love to all as He gives it to you. With compassion in your heart you will never fail to see needs within an ailing person and you will feel the need and have the ability to help them with their journey. Jesus gives His love to all, even those who deny Him. All of His brothers and sisters have a part to play in God's plan of salvation. All can be used no matter how broken or imperfect they may seem. My Son chose a most imperfect man to be the rock upon which His bride would stand. Peter often was not in step with what The Christ wanted. He struggled to understand the importance of what he was being given and shown. He lacked conviction and wisdom at times even to the point of denying The Christ when he could have defended Him. Jesus worked wonders through Peter and others who were so similar and just as flawed. He forgave them as He forgives you. God is devoted to His children and His forgiveness for all sins is the proof of that devotion. Do not deny His love any longer for if we do then you can not love others as He would have you do. Step out with courage in your heart and let His love be your guide to peace and salvation.

not be misled by the deceiver into believing you have not time. Truly reflect on how you spend the time in your day and reflect on how much of that time is well spent and how much is wasted on matters which are not important or pressing. Add up the time spent in idle talk or in other distractions and you will see that you can find a few minutes to give thanks to Almighty God for the day He has given. Always come to Him and show Him the love you have for Him. Never fear to approach the altar of His forgiveness for He waits for you with open arms when you show the courage to ask for forgiveness and show your true contrition. Trust that all that happens will be part of God's plan when you say yes to His call. Accept all and grow in love from the experiences given as a result of your Fiat.

10th March 2006

In times of trial you have the chance to bear greatest witness to my Adored Son, The Christ, through your actions and in the manner in which you bear the burdens. So much good can be achieved for your brothers and sisters by your faithful trust in the Divine Mercy of Jesus. Trust and believe in that loving mercy for that thought will sustain you in your difficulties. Do not allow the words and resentment forced upon you to influence you. When you need to shut out the opposition simply pray and let peace be your companion. Return the animosity which is shown with love for your antagonists and prayers of hope for their well being and salvation. Faith comes from love and love grows through faith and like faith love does not consist of words or feelings but is shown through your actions and deeds. Almighty God pours His graces upon those who show compassion and love to others. He loves even more those who in faith give complete trust and obedience to His Holy Will. Whatever you ask of Him He will give to the humble and faith filled heart but only in fair measure. The greater grace comes to those who ask for the sake of others and deny the requests for them selves. Reach out in your trust and help bring souls to salvation through your work. Pray and encourage others to join you. Always trust in the Mercy of Jesus and the absolute love of The Father. Accept the gifts of virtue from the Holy Spirit and let patience and wisdom work hand in hand and let wisdom guide your need for patience and perseverance. Be at peace in all which you do and say and love as He loves you.

11th March 2006

I thank you for the honour and love you show towards my Adored Son and trust you place in His compassion and Divine Mercy. His promise is to be with you always so will not feel abandoned or alone and He keeps His promise. Many do not keep the promises they make to Him and this causes Him great anguish because you betray the love He gives by not being obedient to the commandments and giving thanks to that which is given to you. Show gratitude and thanks and acknowledge the gift which you are shown and given. Learn from the messages which, through the grace of Almighty God, I am allowed to give and grow in knowledge and love and understanding. Pass on the messages and love to others so they may find salvation and in turn become warriors for The Christ. Prepare in this time of grace for much needs to still be achieved. So many promised signs abound and still Almighty and ever loving God holds back His righteous hand. You can not fail to see His love when you look at the way He renews those who have been devastated. He renews the land and the sea and never leaves His children. All of the turmoil of the past year becomes a dim memory in the minds of those who are to repeat the events. Those who remember must remind all of the dangers and also show the remedy for the ills of the world. My Adored Son came to heal and to give life and to show equality for all in the eyes of Almighty God. His truth and His way are still the only path which will lead you to peace and to salvation. Come to Him and lessen your burdens. Allow Him to carry some of your load. Give praise and glory to He who is your brother and your Father and The Spirit. Trust and believe in His Mercy and design for your life. In humility and with pure love let a simple prayer become your first action at the beginning of the coming year. The greatest celebration acclamation you can make begins with "Our Father". It is an acclamation to which Almighty God Himself will respond. Let good works be your offering this year to come. Let peace come to the world. Do not interfere in the affairs of your brothers and sisters and never believe they are not capable of solving their problems with the help of God. Read scripture and know the knowledge which is contained within. To know how great the mercies of our Lord are simply read the first chapter of Luke and especially contemplate verses 48 to 53.

29th December 2005 (evening)

I call upon you to be humble loving obedient servants for the Eternal father. Always seek to do that which is the will of God but also use your discernment to truly know the ways to fulfil His Holy Will. Always act in accordance with your promise to obey the directions of The Father. Almighty God is loving and merciful but his children must always be on guard against the distractions which the deceiver puts in their way to divert them from that which they should do. If peace is not in your heart then you can not fully serve God. Find peace and joy through your prayers and contemplation on the nature of Gods great mercy. Do not allow events which you can not control to sway you from the narrow path. Understand that through all of your trials and tests and hardships, The Truth and light of My Adored Son is the firm rock and foundation which will support you and keep you from harm. Forgo selfish desires and trust fully in God's presence in your lives.

30th December 2005

So many times I ask you to live life simply and let go of your burdens. All you need is given to you from love by our Eternal Father. He is the source of life and joy and must be your ultimate destination. He leads you to the gentle ways He wants you to live by. Peace and love must be your only concerns. Reach out to all of your brothers and sisters with love and tenderness and mercy. Offer all you can to them and expect nothing in return. I tell you that you will fail in many instances but do not let failure deter you from the showing God's love. Many times you will be surrounded by insurmountable walls which block your path. My Adored Son will give you the strength and resources to overcome those obstacles. When all around is busy and in disarray then take some quiet reflective moments to gather your thoughts and talk with Almighty God. He will smooth the path for you and He will blow down the barriers. He that calms the storm can also allow the storm to rage against those who persecute His faithful children. Accept His gift of Mercy and love and in quiet and prayerful contemplation listen and hear His Holy Will. Pray, read Scripture and receive the Sacraments. Act in a humble and giving manner and always be obedient to our Father in Heaven. Luke 10 41-42

I ask that you allow the peace and love of my Adored Son, Our Lord, Jesus, The Christ to be with in your hearts at this time. Seek to do The Eternal Father's will in the coming year. Allow His love to be your love and let it flow out to all you are called to meet. Pray that in the coming year you may reach out with compassion and mercy. Pray that you be an instrument of light and peace. Pray that you respond to the needs of all who may come to you. Always give God's love and give it with gratitude and humility. Pray you are able to listen when you should and talk when you must. Look at the world with seeing eyes and notice the true beauty of Almighty God's creation. In spite of the darkness and evil, which tends to throw larger shadows than it merits, you who are all God's children have a capacity for such selfless and noble deeds. Glorify that which is both noble and Holy and seek to imitate such actions. Be a reflection of The Christ in all which you are called to do and know that with His help you are capable of all things. Let His Mercy be your mercy. Be giving, loving, obedient and prayerful. Give respect to all and treat all as you want to be treated. Almighty God is with you all the days of your life and all you have to do is open your heart and arms so that He may fully embrace you. Seek understanding through the Holy Scriptures, strength through quiet and earnest prayer and nourishment through The Sacraments. Always be peace, show peace and live at peace. Gain strength from Ephesians 6 verses 10 to 18 and trust.

1st January 2006

It is through sincere prayers which are offered through my Immaculate Heart and My Adored Sons Most Sacred Heart that the world will come to know the richness of peace. It is through Our United Hearts that you will find eternal joy for we lead you to the love of The Eternal Father. He is love and mercy itself and yet few have listened and responded to His words which I have been allowed to convey yet all will see the events to come soon and to which will be wrought from The Father's Mercy. Return to The Christ now by becoming closer to Me This is not the time to be indecisive for you need to make a decision now. Your decision will determine the extent of God's cleansing. A decision in favour of God's light will bring some suffering but that suffering and trial brings great graces for you from our Father in Heaven. Embrace His love now and find peace, joy and salvation. He awaits your response and your embrace. I ask you to come to me, your loving and sorrowful mother, and hand in hand we will walk the path into God's Glory. Peace awaits those who choose God's truth and mercy.

7th March 2006

I have come to ask you to take notice of the words of The Father as given to me for all of His children. I ask you to pray with increased fervour for your lost brothers and sisters and to make prayers of thanksgiving for this time that you have been given. Fast and pray for conversions to take be enabled. Go forward with hearts filled with love and desire to perform Almighty God's Holy Will. I am your heavenly mother and I seek to walk with you on this journey of yours and to light the way for all to be with God in heaven. I wait only to guide and comfort you and show the way to The Sacred Heart of My Son your Brother. Do not become full of despair for My Adored Son, Jesus, is with you always. His mercy pours upon you but it is soon to expire and justice will be seen and felt. His love for you is unconditional, unmatched, and eternal. Turn away from the ways of the world and live the truth of the Commandments. Speak the truth for Jesus is the way, the truth and the life, and all will be done according to His will.

8th March 2006

Trust in the love and mercy of our ever compassionate Father in Heaven. Acknowledge and accept the graces He gives to you and know of His true and real concern for the state of your souls. I have asked you to be prepared and I say that not one moment of your life should be wasted. Let your life be full and focus on God's will and work with Him for His unfolding plan. Be generous and sharing to all who come across your path. Be patient and listen to their journey and share the truth of my adored Son, Jesus, with them. Many do not know Him at this time and still more do know Him and ignore His real presence in everyday life. He asks for you to come and spend some special time with Him as you search for answers and struggle to understand circumstances around you. He is the answer to your concerns and worries. Be humble, loving and live a wholesome and purpose driven life. Be compassionate and learn and understand and live the Beatitudes. Listen to all that I am allowed to teach you and rekindle your love for Jesus. The love of Jesus shines through you when you fully accept Him and His message. It is time now to live these messages and not just read and repeat them. Pray for strength to be able to perform this act of obedience. Almighty God's love will fill your heart and shine on to the darkness which tries to encroach upon everything. Let go of trust in worldliness and humanist science and trust in the glory of creation and give thanks to He who is the creator. Never cease to love each other as I love you and as My Son loves you. You exist to support, protect and comfort each other and to help each other to find salvation and happiness in the knowledge of God.

9th March 2006

In this time of preparation so many have abandoned my Adored Son and left him alone in the Tabernacle as He was left at Gethsemane. Keep firm in your intentions and be an example of The Christ by your commitment. Pray for patience and perseverance and make willing and joy filled sacrifices for the welfare of your brothers and sisters. Find time to spend in pray each day and do light which comes from the truth of My Adored Son, Jesus, to shine the way for you. Do not spend each day in frivolous matters or in a state of distraction rather spend each day being a witness to a world that is blinded to the truth. Step out boldly in faith and accept the love and peace which spring from the Divine Mercy of The Christ.

Bring to Me those in your family who are lukewarm or stalled in their faith and I will guide them to The Sacred Heart of My Son. Pray silently and sincerely to our Eternal Father for their conversion. The words of love I give to you have now begin to conclude yet know that I am with you always. I call all to embrace the endless love and mercy of The Father as given through the Son and by The Holy Spirit. He desires for all to be with Him at His banquet table so prepare now and remain trusting and faithful and obedient.

Satan seeks to remove the light from your lives. He causes so many to extinguish the truth that is in their hearts but always a beacon will remain to guide you back to the path and away from the darkness. I and the faithful remnant will lead those searching in the dark back to solid ground. Darkness is to descend soon and the sins which accumulate will cause the hand of God to move. So many will perish because their souls have become so distant from The Christ and The Father, however, remember that it is my Adored Son, Jesus, who will show the great depth of His Divine Mercy. Prepare now for the time is soon approaching. Offer your prayers for the many souls who will perish because of their selfish, wilful and sinful ways. Our Lord is coming and I ask you to realise that He is justice and He will wield justice to an unjust world. Pray for those who know of His love and mercy and still decide to turn away from it, for theirs will be the greater judgment. Know the time when the great trembling happens in the West. For then will rise the sign in the East and the light will herald the awakening of God's Children to Christ's mercy. Almighty God's plan for His Children is soon to happen and the loss of material wealth will also be a sign to know that change is coming. Let go of worldliness now for it will be taken from those who regard it more than the riches of the spirit. Those who prepare now will be well ready to stand the changes which will occur. Persecution awaits those who do listen and obey for those who suffer will blame those who have listened and responded to the call which they hear. Accept the trials and suffering for so much is achieved by you when you become as one with the Christ in helping in the redemptive vocation you bear for your brothers and sisters. Bear any indignity and malice which comes to test you. Do not respond to the loose words which those steeped in evil will say. Be quiet, gentle, compassionate, forgiving and humble As Jesus is and you will imitate His ways for all to see and take as an example of a well lived life. Stay calm and focused on The Creator and His unfolding plan. Read Scripture and remain close to the Sacraments for you will need much strength. Do not be afraid rather be joyous that you can be so willing to give service to Almighty God. Read the Gospel of John 12 27 – 28 and reinforce that with John 14 1

3rd January 2006

I am the Mother of Jesus Your Saviour and your mother too. I ask you to obey the Eternal Father in humility and never allow fear to dominate the future. Almighty God will never abandon you, His love and Mercy pours out upon you. Pray and trust in His mercy. Bring your brothers and sisters to prayer and help them to see their Father as well. Perform your penance and pray for the conversion and salvation of all. Use the time you have with great care for already you see what this year could bring. Great rumblings are being felt as I was allowed to warn and summer and winter have lost their identity in many places. The waters recede and swell and many are in danger. Return and repent now and so much can be mitigated. You have control through your free will but if you exercise poor judgement and ignore God and His plan then great suffering can arise from that unthinking action. Even your men of science tell you that everything in the physical world has cause and effect. In the spiritual realm the same applies. Seek Almighty God's favour now by simply talking with Him and showing Him that you love and care for Him as much as He does for you. Trust in Him and live with the joy and peace which comes from that trust. Read the ancient revealed truth in Proverbs 23 12 -19 and live The plan of the eternal Father. I wait to guide you to Him through my Immaculate heart and the most Sacred Heart of My Adored Son, Jesus. Allow the Holy Spirit to come into your soul and inspire your judgement and decisions in every day.

4th January 2006

The time for The Eternal Father to show His Great Act of Mercy approaches quickly so be prepared. Search your souls and remove that which keeps you from fully embracing The Eternal Father. Take my hand and allow me, your Mother, to guide you to the truth and the light. Many souls await rescue and you can do much to help your brothers and sisters. Be resolute and strengthen your selves with prayer. Receive the Sacraments often you will receive the graces to help guide them back to the merciful love of The Father. Open your hearts to the Divine love and light of My Adored Son. You must willingly allow Him to enter. His great love for you is waiting for you to claim it. Remain united in prayer and always seek to imitate The Christ. Through His example you will be able to show the light of God with humility. I intercede for you in your requests and I tell you that The Father delights in His children's sincere, selfless prayers given through love.

4th January 2006 a

When my children respond to the messages which I give to you through the grace of the Eternal Father then salvation can begin to happen for them. Accept and live the messages I am able to give. Allow me to guide you with those messages to the shelter of The Most Sacred Heart of my Adored Son. Allow His love and example to flourish within you and show His likeness to all by your actions and words.

Pray often trust and believe and present yourself in the way the Eternal Father wants you to. Believe in Almighty God's Holy will for you. Give all aspects of your life over to Him. Let go of the worldliness which blinds you and then you can see and hear God. Do not allow distractions to distort the words which He gives to you. In all your trials and sufferings you will learn to grow with humility and with a humble heart. You shall be poor of spirit for you will know God's will and God's endless love for you. You will realize that everything comes from Him and you will be thankful for all you receive from Him. You will become selfless and compassionate and merciful in your poverty. His love will become more personal and more meaningful day by day until the time you find yourself, through His Mercy, in the Eternal presence of His light and His love.

Respond to the messages which I give to you through the grace of the Eternal Father and uses this time of grace wisely. I speak always of this time of grace for it is a time which is given for although the Eternal Father knows He must act He will wait until the last moment. He desires for no souls to be lost. His patience is endless.

5th January 2006

You are given grace to know the truth of my Adored Son and to hold it in your heart and to nourish it. Protect the Truth and to help your brothers and sisters to embrace it. With the truth in your heart you will always have the courage to defend it and to pass it on. You must do all that you can to carry the message to others. Through simple prayer you obtain great grace to assist you and help in the salvation of many souls. Understand that this great task is all for the glory of the Eternal Father. Know that all obstacles can be overcome by prayer and your trust in The Almighty Father and His Holy Will. Those who respond to His call shall be blessed forever for they have been chosen and have accepted to proclaim God's Holy Word.

My adored Son, The Christ suffered for all your sin and He is the one who died so your sins could die and was born so that your sins would be forgiven. Join your suffering to His for the redemption of Sin. Many of my children share your cross so know that you are not alone.

Be prepared to do battle with the evil one. Through your knowledge of the truth of the Christ you will be called to battle. You will be given the strength to lift those who are weak and to help them find courage and strength. Pray and perform penance for your sins so that you may grow in humility and holiness. Remain faithful and obedient to the Divine Commandments which come from The Father. Peace is the reward for all who truly and confidently submit their lives to the Holy Will of God. Do not expect an easy path for your acceptance to follow God will bring great conflict with those who do not understand or even know God. Those who oppose are only a diversion and their opposition rises from selfishness and a lack of wisdom and humility. Pray that they may be infused with wisdom through the intervention of The Holy Spirit. Forgive them and pray for all who are as blinded as they are.

Reach out with compassion and love to all and reserve a special affection for your tormentors. When you imitate my Adored Son, The Christ then His Holy light flows from you and increases. Much can be achieved by persecution and suffering and I say to you that your suffering is but a small portion of the suffering prepare for that reality. Seek humble forgiveness and always be steeped in prayer. Find quiet and uncluttered time to pray and contemplate the love and Mercy of our Father and the compassion and forgiveness of my Adored Son, The Christ. Let the Holy Spirit so move you that your desire is to have more and more knowledge of The Truth as shown by your brother, Jesus and also to have that knowledge you gain be passed on to all you meet. Only with the help of The Holy Trinity can you bring others to salvation. Good intention is a great tool but knowledge and discernment are needed to temper your soul and your will. Accept any trials which come upon you and know that it was never God's intention to have you suffer. Man fell from grace and so brought down suffering upon himself. Unite your sufferings now, no matter how great or small, to Jesus truly present before you in the Blessed Sacrament. He takes them and offers them to our Heavenly Father in union with those He suffered for all on Calvary. He purifies them with His Blood and gives them unspeakable beauty by offering them with the same love with which He endured His Passion. Accept His love and sacrifice and turn that love into the peace which you can have when you trust and accept the divine mercy of The Christ.

5th March 2006

You know already that you will be persecuted because of the love that you have for my Adored Son, Jesus. The suffering and discomfort you feel is but a fleeting moment and will pass away soon. The Son of man will soon be seen in all of His Majesty and glory and His divine mercy will be upon all of the faithful who have come to trust and be His disciples. The time of the triumph of His most Sacred Heart and my Immaculate Heart will be a day of great rejoicing for all of God's creation. The grace of time is to pass away and the time of cleansing and judgement will come upon all. Pray that those who have denied Almighty God and The Christ and have spurned the Holy Spirit repent of their ways while there is time. Help those who have turned away from the truth to find their way to the narrow path. Christ's Divine Mercy will flow upon all as an ocean and it can not be stopped. Accept what is given and do not turn your face away from your Heavenly Father. Be prepared for the sign will soon appear and the light of the Christ will radiate into every dark crevice and hiding place upon the earth and His compassionate face will be seen and His voice will be heard, His Mercy and forgiveness is still yours for the asking. In humility accept your failings ask for help and forgiveness and receive Christ's great mercy. Be patient and steadfast in your trust. Hold love within you and peace about you. Do not be tempted by the seducer for he can be persuasive but all he has is temporary and worthless and an illusion. Be vigilant and do not be blinded by his smoke. Read scripture for knowledge and pray for strength and protection from his evil. Read 1st Epistle of John chap 2 verse 18.

6th March 2006 (Noon)

Let the wisdom given to you by The Holy Spirit be your guide in all that you say and do and allow the Holy Spirit to direct you for the days are coming when peace will be restored in the hearts of God's faithful children. Always seek the at peace always and do not let satan and his subtle distractions divert you from your purpose.

3rd March 2006

Accept the love and compassion which showers upon you from The Eternal Father. Your Father deserves your gratitude and acknowledgement but so many ignore Him and also deny Him. I ask my children to not reject my adored Son's endless love and mercy which was given by the Father as His greatest gift for you.

Accept all that you are given by Almighty God. Accept the joys He gives to you and accept the burdens with equal happiness. Embrace your crosses with joy and thanksgiving for Almighty God knows how much each of you can endure, so be thankful and trust, trust in His Divine mercy and grace. Witness the trust you have by your actions and not by words alone. Let your witness bring your brothers and sisters to understanding of God's merciful love and His salvation which is offered to every one of His children. All must allow the truth of The Christ to live within their hearts and all must turn away from sin and amend their ways. Exercise your free will by accepting your faults and giving you will over to the Holy Will of our Father. A soul, through it's own choice, chooses darkness and enters the light when The Christ is accepted and when you ask for forgiveness to shown. Release your pride and selfishness and turn to God for all your needs. Listen to my words and begin to live the Gospel today. Pray, pray,pray, for the earth is trembling now and the oceans are no longer calm. All must wake up in this time of God's great mercy. All must take part in saving souls. Prepare now by prayer and thanksgiving. Spend time each day with your Father and let nothing deter you or distract you from that special time.

With Christ in your heart and the centre of your life you will find peace and joy and reward.

4th March 2006 (Angelus)

The love you have shown me this day fills my heart with joy. I ask you to give thanks in every day for all which My Father gives you. Return to the love which pours in abundance from My Eucharistic heart for that is the way to find happiness and fulfilment and peace. Trust always and know my mercy is always available. I seek to comfort and nourish you and have you dine at my table. Be faithful and obedient to the commandments and always show love for each other and for My Father.

4th March 2006

Never allow yourself to be distracted from that which you know you have promised The Eternal Father that you shall do. It is easy to become distracted and blinded by the subtle obstacles placed in your way each day. If you allow Almighty God to be the focus of your life then He can give you the graces to discern that which is important and that which is not. Never allow yourself to found wanting and unprepared for you do not know the order of things to come and only The Father has that knowledge. Expect to be called at any time and which has always accompanied those who willingly follow the path laid out by Jesus. His holy name is hated and his truth is distorted, perverted and desecrated by His enemies who do the will of the deceiver. Remember He asked you to pray especially for the enlightenment and salvation of your enemies.

5th January (evening)

I ask you again share what I say to you with others. Every soul can be cleansed and all that you need to be free and begin cleansing is to accept Almighty God's truth and trust in His merciful forgiveness. Repent and clear your conscience and know that God forgives the truly repentant soul. Remove the burden of sin through your repentance and do not hold regrets for the sin that has been forgiven. Always be humble before Almighty God and know to give Him all praise and glory. Be at peace in your actions with those who come to you. Accepting the Will of God will give you peace and joy. Always act in a selfless manner and do so out of love and in union with The Christ.

6th January 2006

Everything which you have comes to you from The Eternal father. He gives all to you through His endless love and Mercy. Show gratitude for all you receive through prayer and obedience. In the time you have I ask you to truly prepare your soul for the events which are to unfold. Almighty God wants to protect His faithful remnant and you can be prepared for anything when you are in a state of grace. Receive the Sacraments and confess your sins. Perform your penance and accept the forgiveness which is offered. Pray and bring many to know the truth of my Adored Son, the Christ while there is time. Do not waste time for you may be called to our Father at any moment. Truly serve God in humility and faithfulness. Show hope to all and teach all about trusting in His mercy. Selflessly serve others but ensure that you are attentive to your immortal soul in every moment. The decision is yours to willingly make.

7th January 2006

I ask you pray sincerely and in humility and openly adore my adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. Trust in His truth and His love and His mercy and allow yourself to be filled with the Holy Spirit.

Strive always to live your day in peace, love and holiness. When you receive the Sacraments and read the Holy Scriptures you gain much nourishment and knowledge. When you spend time with my Son, your brother The Christ in the most Blessed sacrament of the Eucharist you gain much understanding. The Eternal Father, has asked me to deliver to you these words which some have had the grace to see and hear. Respond to the words He has lovingly given to you. Live the words now and always allow your soul to be prepared for time is short and so much remains to be repaired. Accept and submit to God's Holy Will and the path will be straightened and smoothed. I call you to the protection of My Immaculate Heart and I ask you to know that I will always be with you and will always take you to the Father, through The Sacred Heart of Jesus and with the Holy Spirit.

8th January 2006

Please listen to that which I am allowed to say to you for a time comes when I will no longer be able to give Almighty God's words to my children. The time comes when all of your unrepented sins shall be revealed to you. In that moment I ask you to respond to The Call to ask for forgiveness.

There is no longer a time in which you can afford to ignore God's offers. The danger in the world surrounds everyone. Godless people abound and many warnings are shown. Let go of your resistance and come into the protection of the united hearts of The Most Sacred Heart of Jesus and my Immaculate Heart. We will strengthen you and give you shelter in the coming storms.

Almighty God never abandons His children even though they ignore and reject His love and mercy. He patiently waits for their acceptance and response to His calls to them. He merely asks for your love to be shown through the way you live your life and the actions you choose to perform within your life.

Pray that each day you may come closer to The Father by the inspiration of The Holy Spirit which comes upon you as you accept the truth and light of The Christ. Pray that all may grow in Holiness and understanding as they repent and improve their way of life. Pray that all hearts may be open to accept the mercy and loving forgiveness which is offered to all. I ask all to come to God with child like faith and innocence. Allow yourself to accept His love and His lessons by which you learn truth, mercy and selflessness. Be witnesses to Almighty God's great love as shown through His sacrifice upon Calvary and which was offered for all. Trust God's Holy Plan and accept His will so that it may become your will. Walk boldly in His light and let go of your fears and concerns and burdens. Your heaviness will be made light when you accept his offer to help carry the load. Be example of My Adored Son, The Christ through your acceptance of Holy Will and Divine Mercy. Those who truly repent all of their sins now will have a great joy which only comes from doing the Will of God and living within His favour. In humility give praise and thanksgiving in every day for the graces and gifts which are showered upon you.

9th January 2006

I come to you with much love and I seek to bring all of my children into union with Almighty God, our Father. I guide and protect you as you travel the path and always lead you to my adored Son, Jesus. He is the light of the world and therefore the light which illuminates the path to God. Many who say they love me and live in the light do not accept the truth. If you love me then you must love my Son and if you love the Son then you must love The Father and The Spirit for all three are the one. When you accept The Son then you accept all three and it is not possible to separate them for once the Trinity was revealed to all then the new covenant was revealed. The way to Salvation is through the Son and the Spirit to the Father. My purpose is to lead you to The Son and help you accept God's Mercy and Forgiveness. I ask you to always be aware of the danger of falling from grace and favour. Keep the light of the Christ with you and around you. Do not believe that peace can be found without His love being accepted by accept all which is given to you that is good for only God can do good. The deceiver creates an illusion of good but with thought and prayer the facade falls away and the true nature of what was shown is revealed. Do not place trust in objects or possessions which are of the world for they can fall to dust in an instant. They are not permanent and lasting as is the love and compassion of Almighty God. Seek to show the great spiritual treasure which exist to all of your brothers and sisters. Ask them to give a minute in contemplation of the grandeur and mercy which is The Father and show how one minute well spent can be built into a lifetime of thanksgiving. One minute is all I ask you to give to begin with and those who truly use that time wisely will happily spend more and more time in preparation. Pray at this time for all who face great danger from the signs which God in His infinite Mercy shows. Those who are prepared have no need of fear for the promise of salvation to the faithful will be their rock and strength and future. Read scripture to see the promise made to those who prepare and are firm. Read the book of Revelation 3:10-12 and live with God's peace and Divine Mercy about you and shining through you.

1st March 2006

If you wish to follow my Adored Son, Jesus, then all you need to do is look to the cross and trust in His Mercy. Take up your cross and offer your burdens for the salvation of your brothers and sisters. Do not fear the persecution for if you follow the message of The Christ and live His life then He has promised you will suffer but will find eternal life. So many of The Fathers children try to show their faithfulness and so many times they fail. It is easy for the deceiver to create a need within you that is not important and then he uses that need to separate you from your intentions and distract you from your promise to the Father. Ask for strength and perseverance to given to you and try to perform the Holy Will of Almighty God. Come before Him in trust and humility and filled with love. Let His mercy be within and show His Mercy to all. Let go of the material concerns and seek to enrich your soul. Pray and be patient. When you feel that you can not hear the voice of God speaking with you then pray more and open your heart to what he is telling you and not just to that which you wish to hear. Be at peace with yourself and know that that peace is given by your loving and compassionate Father. Open your self to the graces given to you from the Father, by The Son and through The Holy Spirit.

2nd March 2006

I am your Mother and my heart is saddened when I see so many of my children disrespectful of their Heavenly Father. Pray for your brothers and sisters to find love and appreciation in their hearts for the great love given to them from The Father. So many find it easy to listen to the words and ideas of the seducer and not rest in the great truth of Divine Mercy. Pray that trust may come upon those hearts which have been made cold and dark by the transient worldly pleasures. Pray that most especially this may be a time of renewal of spirit and commitment to the service of Almighty God. Find renewed strength through the reception of The Sacraments and allow The Holy Spirit to infuse knowledge into your soul. Be

27th February 2005

I ask you to embark on the remembrance of my Adored Sons, passion with renewed understanding and faith. Truly allow yourself to become immersed in prayer and contemplation. Allow yourselves to be moulded into great instruments of Almighty God to be used for the salvation of your brothers and sisters. Do not just seek to know God's love but actively show His love. By your actions you can show to others how The Christ lives within you. Be discerning always and pray for strength to use the talents you have for the service of The Eternal Father. Do not let your concerns cloud the way ahead of you. Trust in the love and Mercy of Jesus and He will guide you to the right path. Through Him all things are possible. Pray for the virtues of perseverance and patience to come into you from The Holy Spirit. Give glory and praise in every day and humbly give thanks for all which the Father gives to you. His truth is light and that is your beacon which shines through the dark depths of despair and it is a light which can not be extinguished. Trust in the faith which is instilled within you and boldly set your course al for the Glory of God The father Almighty.

28th February 2006 (12 Noon)

The distractions offered by the world are mere instruments which are used by the deceiver to move your attention from the Eternal Father. You must set up a discipline which allows you to spend quiet time with Him in prayer and contemplation. Let your focus return to Almighty God and His love and compassion which He gives to all of His children. My Adored Son, Jesus sits at the right hand of The Father and I seek to draw you closer to His Most Sacred Heart and the reception of His Divine Mercy .He is your Saviour and brother and His compassion pours out upon you and all. Help in the redemptive work of your brothers and sisters and never ignore the opportunity to spend time with The Christ as you kneel in front of the Tabernacle where he waits you. Trust in His love and Mercy and know that He is with you at all times. He sees your pain and anguish and He knows those feelings well. He is your comfort and your protection during the storms which come upon you. He is the light which shines the way to The Father and He will always lead those who willingly ask for His help and direction. Keep peace about you and walk with Jesus at your side all the days of your journey.

28th February 2006 (evening)

Many of Almighty God's children find time for unimportant matters and spend little if any time on the most important aspect of their life, salvation. If you do not come to the Father and open your hearts to His words and the wisdom He sends to you through The Holy Spirit then you can not fully performs God's Will in your life. Make time for prayer and for instruction. Take time to read Holy Scripture and to allow your understanding to grow. Seek nourishment from the reception of the Sacraments and always acknowledge that my Adored Son is present in real form with you when you pray at the Tabernacle. Seek to find God's design for your life. Many fail to find the task which has been set for them but they still seek until the last moment. Their patience and perseverance will be rewarded. Trust and all of God's children. Much hatred and bigotry exists and much is caused through selfish pride and complete arrogance. Do not listen to those who say violence will win peace for it only begets more violence. Trust in God and submit to His plan and know peace.

10th January 2006

In order for peace to occur you have first to love one another as you were commanded by The Christ. I ask you to be an example of my Adored Son, Jesus, towards all your brothers and sisters. Love and selfless action will aid immeasurably in the conversion and salvation of those whom you meet. Be prayerful, loving, children of God. Let the light of The Truth shine on to many and help them along the path. Do not seek to convert the converted but charge them to assist, as your greatest reward lies with those who are furthest away. Help them to accept the graces and love of The Eternal Father and teach them to serve by your service. Almighty God awaits all of His children so come to Him through love and accept His mercy and forgiveness. Seek to obey His Holy commandments and seek to know His Holy Will for you. In every day spend quiet time in reflection and contemplation of His great love and His passion. Pray and offer penance for your faults and seek to grow in Holiness and obedience. Let The Holy Spirit infuse His gifts into your heart and always reach out with conviction borne of courage and understanding. Gain wisdom from The Scriptures and always act from love and peace. Read the second letter to The Corinthians chapter 10 verses 2 – 5 and grow in the light.

11th January 2006

Many times I have spoken to you about the danger of becoming attached to worldly possessions and there is a real danger in that. Material possessions are not important when they override the desire for spiritual comfort. Spiritual wealth last long after material goods have perished and passed away. There is no sin in having possessions but the unbridled desire to obtain more and more is a distraction which threatens your future eternal joy because it destroys your humility and selflessness. Desire for possessions at all cost is an illness which can only be cured by seeking a simple and uncluttered life with the desire to imitate The Christ as your goal. Trust in His words and truth and you will throw off the sickness which clouds your judgement and holds back your true happiness.

The world is filled with corruption, selfishness, and all kinds of horrors and regrettable matters. God's children have, in large numbers, chosen darkness over the light. Know that in the depths of darkness the light which shines within becomes much brighter. All things repeat when you fail to remember the lessons of the past. Remember that my Adored Son is the light and He came to a darkened world which had fallen away from trust and faith in God. Man's rules and desire meant more at that time than service to Almighty God. It was foretold in the Scriptures that The Light would come into the world and remove the darkness covering so many. Again the light is diminished by the lack of acceptance of God and His commandments and Holy Will. Again the light will come into the world and this time souls will be cleansed as never before, the world will be cleansed and many will see themselves as they truly are. When this happens Almighty God will, in His infinite Mercy, be allowing you, His children to decide to finally accept Him and all He does for you. I plea that you do not refuse His request for to do so will condemn your soul and add to my sorrows which I bear for all of my lost children. When you feel darkness around you then ask me to help you to the light. I am always ready to take your hands. Do not fear for even satan and his evil spirits can not stand against me for He knows, as was written, that I can crush him beneath my foot. When Jesus is taken into your life then you truly have the protection of God against all great evil which tries to come upon you. You will be persecuted and attacked for your love of Jesus but the suffering you feel is but a small offering for the happiness and peace you will gain. The Christ is peace and joy and understanding. With Him in your heart you can reach out and embrace those in need of love and direction. You can show them the way to safety and peace and they in turn can and will be able to do the same. This is the way that my Son's Bride grew and flourished and it will be rejuvenated once again in this way. Nothing can remove the light from your life other than your willingness to reject and ignore Almighty God. Seek to rekindle the flame of the Holy Spirit which once was taken into all who were baptised in the name of the Triune God. Let the flame grow and allow inspiration to come once more from The Spirit and set the world alight with the flame which burns more brightly than the brightest star.

I come to you with a mother's love and concern. I seek only that my children be kept safe in these dangerous times. The only way to guarantee your souls safety is to remain faithful and obedient to our Father in Heaven. Become immersed in your prayers and let go of your fears and resistance. Seek to come to a closer union with God through accepting His will and allowing your life to become a life of love and mercy and service to God's plan. All of the children have a part in His plan and all are loved and known by Him. He asks you to be with Him in your life and in that way you are assured of being with Him for eternity. You will all be called before Him one day and you will be judged on your actions as well as your belief. Great faith leads to great actions and to God's favour being shown more and more to you. His love for all increases with the pleasure He receives when you offer sincere prayers and unrestrained love for Him. Keep your faith life simple and strong. Give thanks and praise every day and know that a simple gesture of love to someone or a thought of caring or mercy is as much welcomed as is prayer. Do not become complicated in your prayers for prayer must come from the heart and a few simple words, offered in complete submission and humility, can mean as much as any disciplined and structured prayers. Formal prayer given through love is always appreciated. If it is given only because of perceived duty or out of habit or as a means to impress others with your memory then it is time not well spent and you have little time to waste. Change the way you pray and feel the love given to you in each word you utter. Take your time with prayer reflect on each part of it. Say it slowly and invest your feelings into it. When you pray a Rosary or other form of devotion I ask you to again take time in contemplation of your intention and also in what the devotion is based upon. One

Do not fear, is the message I give to you this day from our Eternal Father. Life should be like faith, simple and uncomplicated. When you create difficulties in you life you loose the sense of purpose you had. With enough distractions you will become blinded to the joy of existence in God's creation. He has supplied you with all you need and the desire to accumulate is not a seed which He has sown. Many have more than you and so many have less and I speak of a spiritual sense not in terms of worldly possessions. Find happiness and peace in the acceptance of the Divine mercy offered by my Adored Son, Jesus. He accepted to suffer and die in place of you, so that you could be freed from your sins and receive salvation. Have faith and trust in Him for He is your Saviour. Pray for your heart to be open to His great mercy and love today as His sacrifice is remembered upon the Holy altar. Pray for your brothers and sisters to come to Him and to allow His love to be revealed to their blinded eyes. Seek only to be in harmony with His plan and you will find freedom and joy beyond understanding. Let go of your concerns and let God into your life and thus enter His glory.

26th February 2006

In the darkness which is to pervade everything one light will shine and that will be the light borne out of the love and mercy of My Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. His light will illuminate the dark and remove the stain of sin and Satan. Christ's mercy is poured out on all and is available to all who willingly accept it. The flame of His mercy is available to all no matter what sin sits upon their shoulder. He died to rid you all of your sins and He suffers so much now when you reject and disregard His sacrifice. His Mercy awaits you and He asks for you to show mercy to all as He shows it to you. Do not loose sight of His promise to those who are merciful and when you receive His mercy you must live a life of mercy. Those who live with the grace given by His divine mercy will have abundant blessings showered upon them. They will have peace and safe refuge within His most Sacred Heart. They will have the fire of love burning within and shall have the graces necessary to bring many to conversion and salvation. Do not fear for all apprehension will be past for those who zealously acknowledge and promote His Mercy. He will give you comfort when you are afflicted and dry the tears of your suffering and grief. You will know complete joy in your life and find absolute peace at the time you are called home to The Father. God's children will never truly know peace until they accept His Mercy which poured out from the Sacred Heart of The Christ. Come back to Him with humility and a cleansed and repentant soul. Pray for His mercy to come upon you and spend quiet time with Him in every day. Remember the great Hour of His Mercy and keep watch with Him as often as you are able. Remember to trust in Him and repeat that trust to yourself constantly. You will never be abandoned by Him and He gave me to you to confirm that truth. The company of heaven wait your fiat and great rejoicing resounds through the host for every soul that responds to Almighty God's offer.

23rd February 2006

I want you to know that all of God's children who sincerely glorify the Divine Mercy of my Adored Son, Jesus, and encourage others to trust in that mercy will not have fear at the moment of their passing. The Christ stands before Almighty God The Father as your Saviour as well as your judge. Have no fear for His love and Mercy and forgiveness is upon those who are faithful to His word and obedient to His commandments. Accept His wisdom which is given through The Holy Spirit and always seek to live with peace in your heart. Know that all which is of God will give peace to you and you will be filled with love and gentleness and compassion for all these are His gifts. If you let go of the worldly matters which cause you anxiety and selfish thoughts and distract you from The Father then you can easily see and accept the great free gifts which will give joy. Come to the Sacred Heart of The Christ and bathe in His wondrous and glorious light of Mercy. I wait only to guide and to lead you and all who desire to find salvation and peace to His presence.

24th February 2006

Let go of your selfish desire to accumulate worldly chattels. They will not be of benefit to you when you stand before Almighty God and will be judged by those possessions. Gather about you the great goods of love and charity, compassion and mercy, wisdom, tolerance, obedience and faithfulness. These riches will never become corrupt or diminish in value. Be thankful for the gifts you are given and be doubly thankful for what others receive. Do not covert the love given to others for each is given that which they need and need not desire to selfishly crave more. In short I ask you to not be concerned about the things of this temporary world, however, be concerned about the matters relating to the next. When trials and tests happen in your lives it is not because Almighty God hates you, and it is not because He is trying to bring you to account for your indiscretions. If He wanted to punish His children then you would not be still upon the earth. Understand that what He is doing is showing His love for you. He is purifying you and He is preserving you for life eternal. He is enacting His great Divine Mercy for you and for all. My Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ has said to you that none shall enter the kingdom except through Him. It was His Mercy and His love which He spoke of. Willingly accept and acknowledge that grace which He offers through His endless mercy. Allow you hearts to accept Him and His truth and be a disciple for Him. Show Mercy and receive Mercy. Sow His love within your brothers and sisters and the fruit will be plentiful. Act now while the grace of time exists. Be prepared always for the appointed hour approaches and God will in His moment make all things new. The Time of suffering will cleanse and purify all and remove the stain of satan from your minds and world. Pray for peace to within you at that time find The Mercy of The Christ in the Holy Scripture by reading the 2nd letter to the Corinthians Chapter 1 3 – 7 and read further in the Epistle of James Chapter 5 verse 11.

decade of Rosary said with feeling and care is worth more than a thousand said automatically.

12th January 2006

I ask you to draw ever closer to my Immaculate Heart. Let me shelter you and lead you the My Adored Son, Jesus, and His truth and Light. Let His light fill your heart so that you may become an instrument of God's love and compassion. Trust in Almighty God's will and seek always to understand His plan for you. At all times The Eternal Father wants to show to his children that which is best. His path is not an easy one to follow and you will face many obstacles along the way. His way will not seem the best way by your perception but all too often your sight is clouded by pride and the desire to perform God's will but only when you feel it is convenient. Through practising obedience and humility you will loose that wilfulness and gain trust. Step outside yourself and allow Almighty God to truly direct you. He is willing and waiting to lead you to His understanding so walk with Him, not ahead, and let His gentle hand guide you.

13th January 2006

On the days you feel unable to go on with your journey you must seek the Father and ask for help from my Adored Son and listen to the inspiration of The Holy Spirit. Through your faith you will always have hope and that hope will sustain you through your trials. Try to understand the Holy will of Almighty God and know that to seek to do so can sometimes give disappointment. It is not easy to determine what The Father wants of you but through prayer and fasting you come closer to the Father and are more able to listen to His words of love to you. Spend time with your brother, The Christ before the Blessed Sacrament and at The Tabernacle, receive the Sacraments as often as possible, read Sacred Scripture and trust in God's merciful love and plan for you. Return His love through your obedience to His commandments and through the actions you perform for your brothers and sisters. Be merciful and forgiving to all who you believe have wronged you and always speak the truth as shown to you by Jesus and through The Holy Spirit. Know of truth and understanding through 1 Cor 2 12 - 16

14th January 2006 (day)

The words I give words are words of love which originate directly from our Eternal Father. Allow your hearts to become open and accept these words. Accept into your hearts the flaming love of my Adored Son, Jesus, to fill the emptiness and warm that which has grown cold. Feel the joy and happiness which comes with the reception of His loving mercy and forgiveness. Be humble and loving children and be attentive to the signs around you. Keep your focus upon the truth at all times and you see how the truth is revealed to you in so many different little ways in each day. When you cease to worry about what you are looking for then you open your mind to find that which you seek. Try and find your peace and remain in the quiet presence of that God Granted peace. Use your quiet time wisely and to good purpose. Nurture your prayer life and allow prayer to become a foremost quality in your life. Your prayers are your shelter from the distractions and tumults which try to impress themselves around you. Remain faithful in prayer and you will gain great protection.

The Eternal Father's love for all of His children love is unending and pure. His love is beyond your understanding and nothing of the world can exceed the love which flows from Him through The Christ and with The Holy Spirit. I ask you to reach out and be a witness for Divine love and through your example allow those who have turned away from the Godhead to find their way home.

Our Father showers His graces out upon all who seek Him. Use the grace you are given to help to regain the wayward souls for His glory. Always seek to give loving service to He who has given everything. His love and gifts are your refuge and within His shelter you will come to see and accept His mercy and plan. The great light of Divine mercy will stream from the heavens and at that moment of magnificent mercy the state of all souls will be revealed.

Amid the noise and chaos of the moment The Faithful remnant who have prepared will witness the true nature of The Father's endless love for all. Do not waste one moment in preparing for events come soon which will point the way to Almighty God's hour of mercy. The waters in the ocean will boil as the cauldron opens beneath. Do not fear what is to be seen rather be prepared for it and remain steeped in prayer.

14th January 2006

Again I call you to allow yourself to be immersed in prayer and gain the comfort of the loving graces which Almighty God pours upon those who seek Him in sincere prayer. Draw close to me and accept the protection I offer from the mantle of my Immaculate Conception. I ask you to be aware of the signs you are shown at this time. The signs are obvious to those in whom the Spirit dwells but those without spirit rationalise and dismiss them as quirks or aberrations from the normal pattern. Do not place trust in your belief in coincidence and luck. Nothing occurs by chance for all is part of The Eternal Father's plan. Help to bring your brothers and sisters to a greater understanding of God's Holy will and great plan. Read the Gospel of John 7 16 -18 to understand divine will. Do not accept rational explanations when you, through your proper discernment, have better understanding. I have been allowed to tell you many times that the signs will increase and will soon be seen by all. Not all will understand though and so you and the faithful remnant must help the blind to regain their sight. Through the reception of The Sacraments and prayer and fasting you will come closer to the voice of God. Listen to Him in the quiet times you spend with Him. Look about you and see all which He has created and you will believe in His love for you. His love is real and visible not just spiritual. Find His love in The Words of The Gospels and live His love. You by example can give life and growth to the Message of My Adored Son. Through your imitation of Him He still is able to be seen upon the earth. He will never abandon you and I will always be with you also. Have no fear and live in the peace which comes from your complete belief in God's will and mercy. Look to Paul's letter to the Romans 9 25 – 28 and see understanding to help you to bring others ever closer to my adored Son, Jesus. Always be willing to support your brothers and sisters as they seek the graces and mercy given by the Godhead. Spend time in quiet contemplation and do not allow distractions to move you from the lighted path that has been revealed to you. Never reject the love which is shown through your heavenly family. Trust and learn daily. Read 1Thessalonians 5:9-11 and see the greatness of the gifts offered to you.

21st February 2006

This night I ask you to keep the love of my Adored Son, Jesus ever alive in your hearts. Always know that His Mercy and forgiveness is waiting for those who ask for it. Do not believe that you are not able to be forgiven because of your sinful and unworthy nature. Satan places that idea within you to deceive and blind you to the truth. Forgiveness was always God's plan from the beginning and He gave notice of it all through the texts of the Old Book. You can never be worthy of the love and mercy of God for it is a pure gift. Almighty God with His own reason has chosen each one of His children to be a member of His own Son through the mystical body that is the heart of the bride. He loves you and He wills to forgive your sins because of what He has done and because The Father is love. Your forgiveness does not come about by what you have done, and He can not demonstrate His love more clearly than to be able to reach out and give that love in such a profound way. Trust always in His will for all and know the peace which comes only from Him through The Son and by The Holy Spirit. Keep peace with you as you spend this day in contemplation of love and compassion. Read Ps 78 38 – 39 and see love.

22nd February 2006

Remain firm in your commitment to be a disciple of my Adored Son, The Christ. Let His love and truth inspire the way you present God's merciful love to those whom you meet. Be ever patient and understanding and know that those who come back to the Eternal Father must do so willingly. Guide them gently and with compassion and love. Love will be the device which will succeed where all else fails for when you act out of pure love then you act in accordance with God's will. Pray for the infusion of wisdom to come upon you from the Holy Spirit and use that wisdom to further the glory of Almighty God. Trust and show that trust through your life. Listen and live the words I am allowed to convey to you and always be mindful of the special needs many who come to you have. Spend quiet time in contemplation and prayer each day and always strive to remove the distractions which seem to keep you from your special time. Spend some time in front of the Tabernacle where Jesus patiently waits for you to come and speak with Him. Read scripture and see God's word unfold His eternal plan for all of His children. Read 2nd Cor 12 8 – 10 and do all that you do for the glory of God and do so in humility, trust, love and obedience. Suffer the trials which come your way and know that God uses that hurt for the salvation of many. Pray for those who persecute and know that your prayers will help bring them to the light. God's mercy is upon those who willingly allow themselves to be persecuted for His sake wayward brothers and sisters must become a priority so do not waste time. Let the light you bear shine into the darkness of their lives and show them the way to the narrow path. Help them to begin their journey by showing love and compassion and patience always. Bring those who are away from the Sacraments back to their family and to their ever patient Father. Do not turn your back on any of the teaching your brother The Christ gave for to do so is to reject all for as you are part of the body so are His words. His words can not be diminished without being lost. Do not be tempted to the take shortcuts in faith but persevere and gain strength and understanding. The suffering you endure to be solid examples of Christ will be justly rewarded when you stand before your loving and merciful Father in Heaven.

19th February 2006

I ask you to see my Adored Son, The Christ in everyone you meet. Do not judge people by their appearance or the way they dress. Accept all as brothers and sisters in Christ. When you apply a judgement to people you display a prejudice which is not pleasing to The Eternal Father. He created all of His children in His image and when Jesus truly lives within them then they are the image of Christ and an imitation of Him. Seek to find ways in which you can better serve Almighty God. Offer your worries and troubles to Him as an offering of love. Look into the faces of those around you and see Christ's suffering and passion in the face of the afflicted and desperate. These brothers and sisters of yours suffer as did my Son for they strive through their illnesses to serve Him and glorify God. I ask you to continue your prayers and offerings for great conversion to take place in the hearts of those who are far away at his time. Open your hearts so you may joyfully and humbly do God's Holy Will. I am your heavenly mother and I stand ready to guide you to the light and with that burning flame within you then you will show the way for all to be with our Father in heaven.

20th February 2006

I ask you to become strong in your commitment to The Christ and remain strong in that commitment. When you have said yes to Him then you will be called upon to repeat that affirmation many times. Through all of the tests and trials which come upon you do not loose sight of the light which shows the way to the Eternal Father. The Father loves all of His children and so do I. I seek only to lead you to His offered salvation. Step out with me beside you to support your first wavering steps as your earthly mother once did. Bring joy to my heart by acknowledging your brother as your Saviour. Accept him and His will and find happiness and peace within your life. Give that peace to all and allow peace to reign. Let go of your fears and weaknesses and humbly give thanks for the blessings you receive. Give thanks each day for each day and join your brothers and sisters in prayer as they bring about change and enlightenment. Many say the bride is oppressive and staid but those who know and see the truth see true freedom and vitality contained within the living church. This life comes from the Holy Spirit and it waits all who respond to the call and trust. Patiently persevere in your growth and reap the knowledge to be gained from Holy Scriptures. Use that Almighty God's promise to you who are faithful.

15th January 2006

Please come to The Father through my Adored Son, Jesus, with open hearts. Truly confess your sins and perform your penance for them. Be prayerful and conscious of your deep personal relationship with Almighty God. This is the way you and your soul will find peace and be able to grow within The Spirit. So many of my children have lost their consciousness of sin and do not confess that which they should. There is no sin which can not be forgiven for those with a contrite heart. Sin can be defeated only when awareness exists of the nature of sin around you. Much behaviour which is sinful is ignored because of group acceptance of that behaviour. Your acceptance and promotion of those sins does not remove the stain of that sin. What Almighty God has said is wrong is always wrong and no amount of flawed rational debate can make something which is wrong become correct. Seek to understand righteous behaviour through prayer and humble submission to Almighty God's Will. Obey God's Holy Commandments always and you will avoid sin and the occasion of sin will pass you by and not mark you. Show your brothers and sisters the errors which beset them because of their prideful desire to put God behind them. Those who seek Holiness and understanding can find it but not by remaining a follower of popular opinion. Courage is needed to go against those who seek to live in ignorance of God and His unalterable truth. You will be given that courage through prayer and coming into a deep and individual relationship with our Eternal father. 1 John 3 7

Many have rejected and turned away from my Adored Son, Jesus and His divine truth. Many of God's children continue to ignore His call to ask for forgiveness and to accept His mercy and Holy Will. It is only through The Eternal father and His love for you that you can find true love. His love give life and meaning to life and is unending. His love was poured out on Calvary to save all sinners and that means all of His children. He gave and continues to give but so few accept. His true presence in The Tabernacle goes almost unnoticed except by His faithful and obedient remnant. He awaits you there both day and night and I ask you to spend some time there with Him in prayer and contemplation. Through acceptance of God's Will in your life you will begin to live. You will be filled with a joy and understanding which surpasses anything you have ever beheld and with that love within you all things are possible for you. Pray that our Father's children seek to come to know Him again. Pray that all may find forgiveness and Mercy. Pray that the truth and light of The Christ fills every heart and ask for the virtues of The Holy Spirit blossom in all souls when fed by that light and truth. Give praise and glory in every day to our Father in Heaven and know the peace of the Lord within your life. Read Philippians 4 verses 4 – 7 and know the truth of divine love and mercy always.

17th January 2006

Do not rush ahead of my Adored Son, Jesus, in your journey. Always allow Him to be beside you and in uncertain times allow Him to lead. He will never lead you astray or abandon you. Trust in His mercy and allow the wisdom given through The Holy Spirit to become evident in your life. I call you many times to be an example of The Christ to those you encounter. If you do this small gesture then The Christ becomes real and visible to those who do not yet know Him. By your willing acceptance of the gifts from The Holy Spirit you will grow also in discernment, and humility. Give humble thanksgiving to Almighty God each day in your prayers for the life and blessing you have been graced with. Accept the love and peace of your Lord for it is only through Him that true peace and everlasting joy can be found. When He enters into your soul then you gain great strength and His loving protection covers your soul. He is with you in every day as am I and I ask you to be aware of our real presence as you labour with your burdens. Do not forget that your load is lightened when you ask for help from our Father. Let go of your concerns and place them at the foot of His cross. His compassion flows onto all who seek it with sincerity and a real sense of remorse for their transgressions. Never fear to repent of all to The Christ for His forgiveness waits you and all. In every day show your love for Him and see the beauty of each moment of every day. Keep peace about you always.

18th January 2006 (noon)

Peace is a gift which awaits all who accept the love given by The Eternal Father. I ask you to see and to willingly accept the graces which pour upon you from our Father.

Rejoice and give thanks for the given graces you receive daily and let the love from those graces flow out to all whom you meet.

The love of God comforts you even amidst the storms and turbulence which constantly comes to try and overwhelm you. Face the storms with courage and in the knowledge that my Adored Son's most Sacred Heart will give you shelter.

Please use this time of grace, which is given to all, well and come to Him with your burdens. Do not hesitate to act now for he comes at a time you do not know so be prepared. He awaits your response so do not hold back on doing that which you know you must. Come to me in your love of The Christ and know that you are My children and I will always guide you to His loving embrace.

18th January 2006

I tell you that you effect great change through your prayers. At this time prayers are needed more urgently than you could ever imagine. Many souls need conversion and they do not yet realise the danger they exist in because of their lifestyle and lack of attention to the Eternal Father. The Father gives His love to all but so many do ignore the true nature of that which they have and receive. You have what you have because Almighty God allows you to have it. He will not take from you because of His love. It causes Him great pain to see His children who have great abundance ignoring the true source of their prosperity. It is time to turn to God's mercy and ask forgiveness for your selfish ways. Seek God in emotion into your prayer. Come before God with a humble and contrite heart and allow yourself to be prepared through earnest reflection and fasting. Place your trust in Almighty God for he will take notice of your supplications. Accept His will and always know that everything has a time and a purpose in the eyes of your heavenly Father. I give all my maternal love this evening and I pass on the blessings of the Holy Trinity. Be at peace in your day and night. Stay close through prayer and be an example of The Christ. Let go of your worldly ways and come to understand the depth of riches to be found in spiritual wealth. Pray for those who do not accept the words God gives and do not follow His Holy commandments. They must ask for forgiveness for their sins and abominations. Almighty God will be their ultimate judge so strive to have them stand before Him, repentant and forgiven. Uphold the laws of God and reject the laws of man which seek to destroy and remove God and His laws. Stand up now before it is too late for those who cause so much harm make all come to suffer. Read scripture often and learn and grow. Read Eph 6 17 – 18 and serve the Lord all your days.

17th February 2006

Faith must always be a simple matter. Be patient as you strive to grow in the knowledge of my Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. Faith and understanding are gently given to those who willingly accept those gifts. Let go of your desire to cling to the ways of the world and place your complete trust in the love and mercy of The Eternal Father. Find quiet time to speak with Him every day. Speak from your heart and let the word you give Him be yours for that is most pleasing for Him. Listen to the guidance He will give and reflect upon it and place that advice into action slowly and deliberately. Allow the Holy Spirit to enter into your soul and find peace within yourselves. When God's love resides within then it is easier to not allow the old ways to return. Those who claim to have God but do not have love or patience or charity do not truly know God. He asks you to be as He is, filled with compassion and mercy and overflowing love for your brothers and sisters. His grace is available to all but you must accept it willingly. The pain of resistance is the pain felt by a soul wanting to be freed by the truth. By accepting Christ's light and forgiveness the pain is replaced by joy and peace. Find God in silence and prayer and allow Him to lead you all days.

18th February 2006

To have the faith, you must believe in the fullness of The Christ. That is why my adored Son said, whoever is ashamed of Me and My words in this faithless and sinful generation, the Son of Man will be ashamed of him when He comes in His Father's glory with His angels. With complete trust and faith you must uphold and believe in everything the Bride of Christ, The Holy Mother Church stands for and teaches. The option to take this which seems more palatable and leave that which may require effort and suffering is not available to those who truly wish to follow Christ and approach The Eternal Father with a clear heart and conscience. Do not let your faith be dictated by convenience but live it fully, openly and joyfully. There is no need to hide your happiness and knowledge of The Christ and His light. Declare and reveal that light for all to see. The salvation of your

what they are. Many rationalise and still ask to be shown a sign. The Eternal Father gives signs to you which will be understood by those who are truly aware, spiritually. Apply yourself to much prayer and contemplation in the coming few months. Know that your prayers are heard and many will come to great understanding through your efforts and as a result of your imitation of The Christ and His love. Keep the joy and peace you feel when you pray uppermost in your mind and convey that glorious feeling which you feel to those whom you meet. When you spend quiet time in prayer and reflection you feel the presence of our Father. You will experience the warmth of His loving Fatherly embrace and feel the gentle guidance of His hand upon your shoulder. Spend time with Him and never forgo the chance to give Him the Praise and devotion He deserves. He has given all and will continue to give. He is your source and your destination and He alone is God. Let go of other gods such as status and power and excessive wealth for these separate you from your real riches. Be at peace always and walk with me as I help you along your journey. Never let go of Hope and humility and patience.

Be on guard at all times for the deception which is put to you from Satan and his agents. Do not allow yourself to be distracted from your purpose and true course. Preserve the bride of my Adored Son, The Christ for danger lives within. Do not listen to those who point to the need for radical change for they serve their own agenda and not the good of the whole Mystical Body of Christ. One language is not what unites the church for you are all believers in the truth as shown by Jesus. You all believe in His redemption which awaits you. You all hope for His mercy and forgiveness. Allow the wisdom which comes to you from The Holy Spirit to enlighten your mind. Become prepared for wisdom through the frequent reception of The Sacraments and Always seek time to talk with your loving brother at The Tabernacle. He is your nourishment and the way to The Eternal Father. Be selfless not self serving. Remember you are all a part of the body and not one can fail without the rest being affected in some measure. Accept the gifts and talents you have been given and use them collectively for the benefit of all of your brothers and sisters. Change does not make things better it only puts a shine on that which is already solid. Use the church to effect change in the nature of God's children. Reject the glitter and smoke of Satan as he finds very subtle ways to try to tempt us. He can not use your weaknesses if you remove them. Be prayerful, loving, humble and patient. Be at peace and let that peace flow upon all you meet. Become an imitation of The Christ and let His Glory shine through you and let His will be done.

16th February 2006

Let your prayers ring out to the Almighty Father and may they always be pleasing to Him. When you pray you enter into a conversation with your loving Father in heaven. If you feel that your prayers are not answered then it may be that you need to change the way you pray. Do not just pray in a mechanical way but always let your prayer come from your heart. Invest your true self and your your prayers and contemplation and know that He only wants what is best for all. Be humble and selfless and obedient at all times. Be discerning of the intentions of those who seek to lead you to a way which may not be the way of God. When you feel disruption and disturbance then know that at that time God is closest to you. Delve deep into your souls and retrieve the peace within and the distractions will no longer affect you. Do not give into Satan's ploys at stealing your peace. Feel peace in all that you do and ask for God's hand to direct your actions at all times. When He is allowed to be in charge of your life you will not fall. When His love is within you then you will walk in the light and understand His will. By performing His will you gain the rewards as promised and given by my Adored Son, Jesus.

Read Heb 12 28 – 29 and have joy in your heart for the great mercy God shows to all of His children.

19th January 2006

I call on you to pray for my lost and searching Children. Pray and try to help all to come and refresh My Adored Son's bride. Many keep away from the celebration of The Mass because of pride and their misguided belief that they will be safe because they once accepted The Christ. I tell you that those who say they know Him and yet ignore Him and continue to not accept that all comes from Him as The Father will find that He does not know them. His mercy is great and is poured out endlessly on those who in humility and thankfulness give Him all due honour and praise. Signs of change abound around you and the presence of those signs points directly to the true soiled state of the souls of God's children. Soon there will come a time of uncertainty, a time of great suffering, a time of great disorder. It is a time when your only peace will come from your knowledge of the truth and acceptance of the light of Jesus. All must continue pray and do not lose hope for I am with you always because I am your Mother and through my love I lead you to your brother, My Son who is Our Lord and Saviour. Do not lose your direction or purpose and act always through love for others and in pure charity.

I ask you to remain strong by being steeped in prayer and contemplation. Many distractions will arise which will try to take you from your true path. These distractions seem harmless but anything which diverts you from the work you do for God's children is not from God. Trust completely in His plan and help bring it about in these troubled times. So much needs to be done to gain the salvation of the lost wandering souls of your faraway brothers and sisters. Almighty God asks you to help Him have them willingly accept His love and mercy. Simple faith which is performed with love and humility can do much to light the dark path which so many are stumbling upon. Know that as Satan realises the end of his days he and all the evil spirits will try even more diligently to steal the souls of Almighty God's children. Be aware of the ruses of the devil and reject them. Look not for what you want and find instead that which you need. Let the Holy Spirit of love strengthen your understanding and faith. Seek the confirmation of your faith in Holy Scripture and the reception of The Sacraments. Pray each day from your heart and nurture your personal friendship with my Adored Son, Jesus, your brother. Seek always to live the Will of The Father and reach out in love to all. Worry not about the level they seem to be at with their spiritual life for they do know the truth and must of their own free will accept that truth. Merely guide them and help them to focus on God and His love and forgiveness. Read Titus 1 15 and pray for unbelievers.

21st January 2006

Allow trust and patience to be foremost with in you. Know that through your faithful and constant prayers you become drawn to the protection of the Most Sacred Heart of my Adored Son, The Christ and also to mine own Immaculate Heart. With the love and protection which we offer you can withstand the persecutions which come your way. Let the trials you endure become stepping stones on the path of salvation. Let the example of how you accept your burdens show others the way to the truth and the light. Step forward boldly and with complete faith in the love and mercy of the Eternal Father. The Eternal Father give His blessing directly upon you this night. He thanks you for your love which you show through your devotion to Him and the Honour you show to me, His humble servant. We are all servant of The Living God but our indenture come out of love and freedom to choose. We willing have to make the choice to serve and keep serving. The reward we receive is love and grace and joy. Wit confidence in the eternal mercy of our Father may all of His children come to that joyful role which you have accepted.

22nd January 2006

I come to you and bring the message of peace to you. Be strong and faithful in your prayer life and know that your prayers do mitigate so many happenings. Almighty God showers His love on His faithful remnant and His love and mercy is rewarded by the sincere prayers of His loving children. So many children have strayed away from the Father and this cause Him much sorrow for He desires for all to as He knows they can be. He desires for all to be united as the family which they truly are. I intercede for you and for your intentions and because of the love you have shown to me our Father responds to your prayers. Remember though that in all things He gives that which you need and not that which you want. Accept His gifts with gratitude and with the full understanding of their divine origin. Let go of the worldliness which binds you to the wrong path and seek the riches of humble abandonment to God's Will. Pray and perform your penance and willingly accept your sufferings in order to help souls along the path to salvation consecrate all of my children to me and My Immaculate Heart will triumph and there will be peace. That great era of peace will be the Eucharistic reign of my Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. Go in the peace of God and I pass to you the blessing of the Father and of the Son and Holy Spirit. Stay close to the Trinity in your prayers and contemplation. Receive The Sacraments often and read Holy Scripture to gain knowledge.

am allowed to give to you to place your Saviour, Jesus, first in your life. Immerse yourself in prayer and humbly and willingly submit to Almighty God's plan for all. Become obedient to the Holy commandments which were given by The Eternal Father so that love and peace and mercy would reign through the hearts of His children. Remain faithful to the truth of The Christ and find comfort through His bride. Receive the Sacraments often and read Scripture. Reflect on the true nature of The Holy Mass and place your burdens and concerns and confessed sin upon the Altar. Offer them for the salvation of souls as you celebrate the wonderful sacrifice and death of your loving and risen Saviour and brother. My maternal love for you leads me to intercede for you and I pray that faithfulness and charity of spirit always be within your heart. Come to the protection offered through the united hearts of myself and The Christ. The need is great and becomes even more urgent as time passes away. Beware of godless people who speak of matters which they do not understand. Always treat everyone with respect regardless of the bias they show against you. Know that many become the pawns of satan and his evil hordes. They will be defeated and my Immaculate Heart will triumph but much suffering has to be endured before that glorious moment arrives. Keep peace within yourself even when all around seems to lack peace and compassion. The steadfast heart will always triumph over wickedness and hatred which will eventually devour itself through its hunger and lust.

13th February 2006

I remind you to always have your sacramentals about you for they are a point of protection and reference not just an ornament. At this time you must pray with increased devotion. The time for the fall of satan approaches and he will cause much disruption to all. Some will be obvious and much will be hidden in subtle thoughts and clouds. Do not allow yourselves to be led astray or distracted from your course. Satan fills the world with every type of distraction to keep you from The Eternal Father and your devotions. Do not let him have his way through his clever ruses and wily traps. That which seems a simple and innocent diversion down a side track can become a swamp which halts your progress and is difficult to be extracted from. Keep peace about you and always seek direction from Almighty God for all things you wish to undertake. Trust in His wisdom as given you by The Holy Spirit and listen to His voice as it echoes within you. Reach out in love and with compassion and you will have those qualities in abundance when you accept the love which pours upon you from The Father. Be humble and patient and prayerful and loving children of God. Let His light be spread from you to many. Accept my maternal love and desire for your salvation for I can lead all of my children to God if they will just trust and take the first step on their own. I again say to you that this time of grace must be used wisely and productively. Be prepared now and give thanks and praise for God's mercy and compassion.

14th February 2006

There are signs all around you of and these serve as a warning of Almighty God's impending action. So many of His children do not want to see the signs given as rejects and shouts down truth is one who does not understand or is simply a liar. Hold fast to your strengths and to the light of truth which burns within you. Pray and ask for mercy. Accept the sufferings which will come as a result and know that you would ask for more rather than less if you were able to fully comprehend the enormous benefit gained by your suffering. Know that the reward for the faithful is assured and secured by the suffering of my Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. Seek refuge in scripture by reading John 14 verses 1 to 4 and walk with love and hope in you hearts.

10th February 2006

Know that my Adored Son, Jesus, loves you and all of His brothers and sisters. His heart overflows with compassion and mercy for all of you. Rely on His mercy and forgiveness for He knows that you are able to fall into sin easily. He knows the pain and misery you feel because of the many sins you commit and He waits to heal that hurt and ease the pain. He suffered and died for you and for all so that your sins, Past, present and future could be forgiven. The true beauty of His mercy is that it is always available for those who seek it while they have the opportunity. Until the moment of your last breath His mercy is able to be accepted. Ask for forgiveness and ask with a humble heart, desire to remove sin from your life entirely and strive to achieve a life of holiness free from sin and temptation to sin. I am here to help you and to guide you to The Eternal Father through The Christ as He asked me to do. I am your Mother and all of you are my children. Come and walk the lighted path of truth and love with me. Listen to the words I am allowed to give and find peace in the recognition and reception of Almighty God's love.

11th February 2006

I want you to know that you are never alone on your journey. When you have my Adored Son within your heart you become part of the greater family of The Christ. Accept His love and mercy and gain strength from Him as you pray. Much strength and patience is needed at this time. I cry for the sins of my children and so, also, does your brother, The Christ. His tears are tears of blood which are shed for those who are lost forever and for those who make his wounds ever deeper by their actions. Come to know His mercy which is ever flowing as is the blood of salvation. Trust in the will of the Father and accept His plan for you. I thank all who have on this day paid some respect to this unworthy servant. I am humbled that so many of the faithful remnant are still willing to acknowledge me as their mother and I desire that all would also listen to me and the words I give from Almighty God. Sadly, though, so many listen to the words of others and not of God. Pray that they will soften their hearts and fully accept all aspects of my maternal love. I ask you to maintain peace about you and always give thanks and praise to The Father and The Son and The Holy Spirit.

12th February 2006

Today I come to all the beacons of light through the world and I desire to call my children to come back to my Adored Son, Jesus. I ask all who hear the words I

23rd January 2006

So many of our Fathers children concern themselves with outward appearances and forget to tend to and polish the broken and tarnished nature of their souls. They neglect God and seek only that will seemingly increase their stature and importance in the eyes of others who think as they do. I tell you that one day you will stand before our Father and you will be seen then as you really are. You will be judged on the content of your heart and not by the cut of your clothes. Forgo worldliness and accept a simple and God centred life. Pray and give praise to Almighty God for your true wealth. Your riches will not show but they will be more solid and permanent than the finest gold or gemstones. Those riches will come about because you accept the Love and Will of The Eternal Father. Hold on to that wealth and let it grow. Share that which you have with all who come to you. Do not hold back from anyone. With God in your heart you can not fail in your efforts to win souls for salvation. Your great wealth is replenished by my Adored Son and His truth. Read scripture and pay heed to the need to be always prepared through the frequent exercise of the Sacraments. Join me in prayer every day as I intercede for you to our Father. Let the Holy Spirit's wisdom abound in you and in humility seek to do all that pleases everlasting God. Trust and obey and remain faithful until the end of days and you will live in His Eternal Glorious presence.

24th January 2006

I am to come again to heal your hearts and give the hope of redemption again. My love for all is already known yet so many reject my simple plan for joy and peace. I am patient and call on all of my disciples to reflect my patience when dealing with those who still resist the way of heaven. Be considerate and caring, listen and love and, above all, respond to the crying heart which yearns so much to be loved and made well again.

So many hear and respond to the messages I give from The Father but more do not. The deafness they have will be removed in a short time. Those who are blind will see but they will still not respond if they do not recognise what they are shown. A sign is only of benefit to one who understands the language of the sign. I ask you to help your brothers and sisters to learn, again, how to see the will of God and understand His words. His love is boundless as is His patience and while He waits many continue to mock and defile His presence in their existence. This causes Him much sorrow and many take that sorrow He feels upon themselves in order to show their great devotion to Him. Your willingness to suffer and accept hardship comes through a humble desire to serve and is a great expression of your love. When the time comes to stand before God His rewards for those who suffered for the sake of others will be shown. Your joy in heaven will be great and your greatest reward will be to be in the presence of those you helped through your trials. Read scripture for understanding and strength. Read James 5 7-9

The Eternal father is God and He is a God who loves His children. In the old books many saw Him as a God of wrath and anger. He was first a God of Love as shown when He gave dominion over His creation to His beloved children. He created all for you and gave all to you through His love and mercy. It was rejected and still is rejected by so many of His children. He is a god of patience for if it were not so then the God of wrath many think of Him as would have acted long ago. Do not misunderstand our Father by listening to what others say of Him. Read the scriptures and come to understand Him more fully and see His love. In the book of Jeremiah we find a God of many facets, Foremost He is God who wants to free His disobedient children from their exile in Babylon. In Chapter 29 you see he has a plan for all but as was written originally it said He knows your thoughts and turns them toward His will. Later in the same chapter it is revealed His displeasure at those who refuse Him(19 – 19) Many variation of the word exist and each carries the basic truths but many use and abuse Sacred Scripture to meet their own desire and agenda. Many know parts of scripture but do not understand that which they have learned. Understand the word of God and you will see His plan and His will within the pages. Pray and remain close to the Sacraments. Allow The Holy Spirit to strengthen your faith and wisdom and courage. Read the Scriptures with new eyes and accept Almighty God's generous love. His hand will fall one day but He waits until the last possible moment which only He knows. Trust and accept Him now and live now in the peace and joy which is also the reward in eternity for all who remain faithful.

26th January 2006

I call you again to increased prayer at this time. Know that all The Eternal Father wants for you is peace through the acceptance of His endless love. Let go of the differences which separate you from your brothers and sisters. God has given those differences so that you may celebrate and learn from the diversity of culture which blends through His creation. Give thanks for the great graces you have been given and always give praise for all of the love shown to you. I lead you to The Father through showing the way to my Adored Son, The Christ and The Holy Spirit increases the knowledge of God with in you. Use the knowledge you have well, discern the ways in which you can best serve The Father and know that your free arrived at decisions determine your future both on earth and beyond. Seek only to serve and obey and know that in doing so you find great favour with our merciful Father in Heaven.

27th January 2006

I tell you that it is most important that you remain faithful to the convictions as revealed to you by Almighty God. Only He and you know the content of your heart and none have the right to judge or criticise that content. In your mission it is important to know that the first soul to concern yourself with is your own. Attend to your growth before you attempt to lead others. I remind you that it is not possible to show the way when you are blinded by your own plank. Discern all that you hear and decide to do and ask always if it serves the Will of God. Act in mercy and compassion but realise that you will face attack for your service. Love will be met with enmity and many times you will face the temptation to surrender.

The Eternal Fathers plan and gently try to guide them back to the lighted path.

8th February 2006

Thank you for allowing me to be with you at this time.

I give to you this night my maternal blessings and pass to you the great blessing from The Father and The Son and The Holy Spirit.

Allow your days to be filled with the love and joy which comes from the knowledge and acceptance of my Adored Son, Jesus. I ask that you allow His light to shine through you and into those you come to meet and that it may illumine the entire world and rid it of the darkness which tries to cover it. Do not fear the task at hand and do not believe it will be easy to achieve. All matters which bring you to the love of the Father are met with opposition by the evil forces which want to steal you away from Him. Persecution and torment for the sake of your brother, The Christ, goes hand in hand with faith and acceptance. Remember He has said that if they hate you it is because they hated me first. Accept the burdens which come with faith and spiritual growth and turn them into strength and an example of devotion. Trust in the love of The Eternal Father and find quiet time during each day to pray and reflect on His mercy and love and greatness. See each new day as an extension of His living creation and do not be blinded to His loving gifts which He shows and gives each day. All comes from and through Him so give thanks and praise. Do not let your mind be still or idle but seek to increase your knowledge each day through The Holy Scriptures. Receive The Christ often through The most Holy Eucharist and always seek forgiveness through a humble and contrite confession followed by sincerely performed penance. Find protection beneath the mantle of my Immaculate Conception as I lead all to The Sacred Heart of Jesus. Read 2nd Timothy Chap 4 verse 18 and feel the safety offered by the Sacred Heart of your brother and Saviour, The Christ.

9th February 2006

Be at peace and know that I am always with you and I intercede for you to our Eternal Father. If only my children would open their eyes and see the glorious majesty and joy which waits upon all who accept the will of the Father then peace and true brotherhood would be upon the earth instantly. My heart aches for those who refuse to be part of Almighty God's plan and believe, instead, that they are in charge of their destiny. If you loose respect for each other and if you loose respect for life and if you loose respect for God then you remove the supports which hold up the protective roof which shields you from so much. My dear children do you not realise that it is your wilful and disobedient ways which take away God's protection. When you make decisions which are contrary to the truth as revealed in Holy Scripture and are against the commandments for life then you bring about your own ruin. When ever respect as I have stated has been removed from the consciousness of mankind it has lead to a tragic and dramatic decline and fall from grace. Ask almighty God to guide you and accept His love. Stand up and talk out in a bold manner. Be a witness to your beliefs and faith and let you actions and words be a result of your conviction and not ones of convenience. There is no fear to be had from the truth for the only one who separation and the depth of grief while he lived among you. He knows your frailty and He knows your strength and capacity to be disciples of love. Choose to follow Him and bring all to the offer of salvation. Pray and read scripture, receive the Sacraments often and trust in God who gives all you need to you. Know His love and compassion by reading Galatians 4 verses 6-7 and John 11 verse 35

Prepare now by prayer, performing your penance and fasting. Bring as many to salvation as you can, now.

6th February 2006

Let the words I am allowed to give you help spread the truth of my Adored Son, Jesus. Find unsurpassed joy in the acceptance of His Holy love. Feel the release which comes when you know His mercy and forgiveness. I ask you to turn to Him in your time of need and He will give you shelter and comfort. Completely let go of the hurts and pain of the past and act in a merciful and selfless manner. Do not concern your time with trivial matters which amount to nothing more than a distraction from the work you are called to do. Act in a positive manner in this time of grace for it can not last forever. My time with you must soon pass away and you will need to relive and repeat the messages and instructions I have given. They will sustain well you for in them are contained all that Almighty God wants you to know so that you may help your brothers and sisters. Soon you will feel the pain of separation but know that The Christ is always with you and so am I and all you need do is delve into your memory to find the answers to any question. Do not fear that you do not understand all for as you know already no one is capable of complete knowledge for that gift belongs to the Eternal Father and He gives to each only what they are capable of taking. Keep peace about you and walk in the light of redemption. Be joyful and thankful all of your days.

7th February 2006

Be prepared for the time that my Adored Son calls you. Do not hesitate to follow Him and His word for He may not call again. Be ready to meet Him and willingly accept the plan He has for you. Do not allow yourself to be distracted or disturbed in your task. Submit to the Will of Almighty God and you will be given strength and graces to assist you. Life has uncertainties in your mind but one reality must overcome your human weakness and that is that God loves you and desires for you to be with Him in the Glory of His presence. To this end I am allowed to give His words to you and all. Help bring about His plan for all by applying yourselves to the salvation of your brothers and sisters. Trust in His wisdom for it will be given to you through The Holy Spirit. Keep your protection about you at all times for the enemy will seek to enter through any flaw in your Holy armour. Seek the protection of mighty Michael for he will shield you. Above all be at peace and be filled with joyous love in your task. Be prayerful, loving and obedient. Spend time in careful reflection on the passion of your brother and let that passion inflame the great depth of Holy love which has been placed within you. Strive always to do the will of God regardless of the opposition. Pray for those who try to frustrate

Do not give up but persevere you will see God's plan unfold and His Will done on earth. Trust in Him and dedicate your day to He who love you beyond compare. Prayer is the solution to any problem or upset. In the quiet time you spend with our Father you will hear His voice. The Holy Spirit will fill you with confidence and the words of my Adored Son, Jesu, will resonate through you and fill you with His light. Humbly accept all which comes and meet all who cross your path. Do not concern yourself with their level of spiritual understanding and do not compare for always there will be those with greater and lesser understanding than you have obtained. Work to your ability and do not try to progress until you have the right tools. That which you need will be given to you as you need it and all in God's time. Keep peace about you and do not allow your calm to be lost by the incursion of satan and his disruptive ways. I am always with you and I not only join your prayers with mine but I join you in your moments of prayer. It please me to see devotion to The Christ and our Father and The Holy Spirit. All honour is owed to those who give everything you have.

Be always grateful for the mercy which is showered upon you by The Eternal Father. Give daily thanks for His great love and never loose sight of the fact that all you are and have come about by His will and His hand. In this time many of our Fathers children have forsaken His presence. His requests which I have conveyed through this time have gone unheard by so many and unheeded by many. Many of my children whom He has called have failed to respond. I ask you again, please respond while there is time and I ask not only from the Father but also from the depth of my maternal love. I also desire that none of my children be lost to the snare of satan and his evil host. Accept the will of God in your life and live a life of joy and purpose. My heart is filled with love for you so accept it and take my hand so I may lead you to My Adored Son, Jesus, The Christ. Find shelter through our United Hearts and stay close to us always. We are there when you call and when you need us. Pray for strength to see you through the dark days to come. Our Father sets yet more signs before you but without discernment and wisdom you will not see them for what they are. Pray, read scripture enlighten your soul and nourish it with The Sacraments often. Let peace and God's heavenly kingdom be your goal always.

30th January 2006

Each time you take the time to pray you come closer to my adored Sons Most Sacred Heart. Prayer is needed at this time so continue to pray and hope. Offer your prayers individually and as united groups and pray for the power of your prayers to change what can come to pass. Let your love for the Eternal Father become a great prayer for the salvation of your brothers and sisters. Let your hearts sing out praise to our Lord and know that God truly hears all sincere prayers. The Eternal Father responds to your love by giving me to all of His children. Let my maternal love for you help to keep you united and strong in your prayer and in your purpose. I ask you to be faithful and in that faith maintain the hope which comes from the truth of The Christ. His mercy is unending and He desires for all to be with Him at His banquet table. Keep peace about you and find absolute joy and fulfilment in your life as you perform Almighty God's Will on earth.

31st January 2006

I want you to realise that when the difficult times come you must place your complete trust in the Will of The Eternal Father. Trust in His mercy and love and in His desire to provide for you that which you need. Your great hope has been provided by the forgiveness He offered by His sacrifice on the cross and by His resurrection. This gift is still offered to all and all can receive it through their own decision to accept. When my Adored Son comes into your life then His light comes upon you and The Holy Spirit of love enters into you. Seek the joy and the graces that The Christ offers to you as The Most Sacred Eucharist and receive Him often. When he is within you then you will be filled with His offered graces and your soul will be nourished. Let His love and your belief in that love guide you through your day and enter into everything you do and say. The love of God and The Christ and The Holy Spirit will lead you to fulfilment and peace as you reach out to those in need. That love will guide all to salvation if only it is recognised and accepted and acted upon. Pray for discernment and seek understanding through The Holy Scriptures. Continue to learn and grow with His love. Read Psalm 37 23 – 24 and Proverbs 3 21 – 26 and learn to trust and have confidence.

1st February 2006

Know that the light you carry within your heart when you accept the love of my Adored Son, Jesus, will light the dark times to come. You are called to be examples of the Christ to all you meet and it is by that example that many will come to salvation. Accept Almighty God's Will humbly and with gratitude and He will provide for you. Reach out in love and hope and always give selflessly of yourself. By patient guidance and constant compassion you can show the way to God to those who are lost at this moment. Bring them to the truth through the reception of The Sacraments, Reading Holy Scripture and by your sincere prayers. Let them find shelter from the storms of their life for The Christ gives peace and calm to where there was upset and turmoil. Take quiet time to reflect and come to a greater understanding of the love of the Trinity. Seek to make special time in which you can listen for the voice of God as He directs you. All of The Father's children are truly loved and He seeks your acceptance of His love. Fear and anguish will be replaced by hope and joy when you agree to be faithful and obedient to God's commandments and accepting of His will. He sends His blessings to you at this time and I remind you that He has blessed me by allowing me to be your mother and I am constantly blessed by the love for the Father and myself which I see within my children. Great graces await those who give their all for God's purpose so let go of worldliness and take on the challenge of humility and obedience. Read Revelations 21 3 – 5 and seek God's mercy and forgiveness.

2nd February 2006

Always remain secure in your devotion to and belief in The Bride of The Christ, it is the living Church and it alone can give you true peace, because it possesses my Adored Son, in the Most Blessed Sacrament. Remain faithful and submit to the task given to you by The Eternal father with gratitude and in humility. Peace is enhanced by the prayers which you offer and always know that truth as you grow in peace you grow in Holiness. Accept the love of God completely and feel the calm joy of His presence in your life. Be moved by the presence of The Holy Spirit in you life and accept the graces offered. Use the graces in order to grow and become a strong disciple. Let the courage you gain allow you to reach out and speak out in favour of the Truth. Do not compromise and always hold firm to the Truth. Seek to show the glory of God in all that you do and allow others to see that glory. Trust, obey, pray. Show love and be love and receive love. Read Matthew 16 24 – 25 and know your God.

3rd February 2006

I ask you to draw ever closer and deeper into my Immaculate Heart and allow my maternal love to guide you to My Adored Son, Jesus. Become immersed in the joy which comes from knowing His truth and accepting His love. Let your heart be filled with that joy and accept the graces which pour upon you from the Eternal Father. Remain humble, faithful servants for Almighty God and resist the changes which are thrust, at this time, upon all. Do not forsake God as so many of His children already have but stand up for The Truth as revealed in His Commandments. Hold fast to the teachings which you know to be proper and right and maintain the respect you, as true disciples, must show for all of your brothers and sisters. Do not become obsessed with the shine of worldliness for it will soon tarnish and corrode until nothing remains. God's love and forgiveness are the only lasting items which you need and they have been offered to you and to all freely and can only be accepted freely. No value, as you perceive it, is attached to these items but by all standards they are priceless. Pray and give thanks for this gift and know that when you follow The Christ, you will inherit the earth and live with Him in everlasting glory. Keep peace around you and extend God's love to all.

4th February 2006

Almighty God The Father took the human condition upon Himself with all its heartaches and suffering in order that all of His children would find redemption. All of my children are united by My Adored Son's human nature For when God became The Son he truly lifted your nature. He unites Himself to every person who believes in Him and is a willing disciple of His. When He and His truth and light reside within you many great deeds become possible. Look to the lives of the saints and see how they were transformed by the power of The Holy Spirit working with in them. Act as they did by being prayerful, humble obedient servants for Our Father. Place your burdens before Him and ask Him to ease your pain. He knows your pain because he felt the pain of abandonment and
